

A Gift for Satan, for His Day. *Important.

HP Hooded Cobra 666

December 21, 2012

December 23rd is approaching. This is Father Satan's day. I would say, as we would give presents to those whom we love, we can all give something massively back to Satan. He has been taking care of us since step one and we wouldn't even exist wasn't it for Him. It's only a show of a Good heart and Good Will to give something back, even if in our eyes it may seem minor.

We need to let Satan be loved. For centuries all things said about Him were only blasphemies, in their greatest form. For many centuries, all He received was attacks and yet, He was still persistent in reaching us. There were sacrifices of Animals and Children that were wrongly done in His name. He has seen and witnessed things completely against Him. Satan stood proud aside with all the Gods of Hell, step by step, patiently worked to free us. His Age is now upon us, the Truth about Him is getting out. He is not a monster, He never had bad Will for Humanity. He loved us from the beginning. He has helped all His dedicated disciples personally, sent other Gods to Help us, and assisted us even in the most trivial problems. He never let us down, and this is True. He showed us we have power and that we are not carpets waiting to be stepped upon.

This is not being done other than to show Satan our deep appreciation for Him, on His own personal day.

So I call anyone, anyone who feels Satan's emotions for us, anyone who has the Will to be called a child of Satan, let's all go back to our Father with an offering, an offering of our love that will show Him that He is loved and appreciated, that we patiently expect Him and all He Wills. Let's all send some energy to Satan on December 23th, a little ball of light with some Runic energy, aside from the Rituals and Prayers, keys and everything we will be doing in devotion towards Him. Let's empower our Father even more, by how much we can. It matters not how much; it matters if you will do it or not. You can do this of course, during your ritual

So, here's how to do it.

Extract some bioelectricity from your Aura, or your Solar plexus chakra, or from where you feel comfortable, and condense it in a ball in your hand. Make it as bright as the Sun, cleanse it. Vibrate the Rune Sowilo, for how many times you feel comfortable. From 16, to 32, to 80. How many you will. Then if you're advanced, impregnate that ball with each of the 4 elements and the Akasha. Program the ball to eternally empower Satan's energy, in every way Satan desires. The affirmation can be like this [to be said while you intently focus on the Ball of Light]:

"This ball of energy is permanently empowering Satan, according to His own desire and Will Remember Satan and the Gods have been fighting for centuries upon centuries with the enemy, using so much of their own energy, so many ups, so many downs, so much pressure. It would only be a polite move to give something back to Satan, not only to help but as to show we appreciate HIM. Tell Father you love Him that day. He has very deep emotions. Let's all go back to our Father and have a share of His love, because He is everything, everything there is.

HAIL SATAN!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
