

How to Tell If Your Kundalini Has Been Awakened?

HP Hooded Cobra 666

Kundalini is your sexual energy in your base chakra, the Chakra of Satan. It's an electrifying and fiery energy [bioelectricity] residing therein and it's a relatively infinite source of bioenergy in your Soul. As you meditate, your energy pathways will open and this energy will go to the top of your head. After this there are other events following. All in all, it's a source of energy that brings your mind from 7% of operating, to 100% aside other things. What you feel is probably some activation of it.

Activating, awakening and energy Raising or the Kundalini Itself raising are all different events that follow a sequence. As the energy awakens you will experience changes in your body's Nadi system or call it nervous system. Since the Kundalini rises from the Nadi in the exact middle of the body [Shushumna] it fuses the left and right hemispheres of the brain and they no longer work divided.

Nevertheless, I ask you to do your research on the JoS 2010 sermons by HP Maxine.
