

Next Level of Human Evolution: Homo Judaicus

People when they hear the word "Freedom", they do not quite understand what it means.

When Satan came to give sight to man in his "ignorance", where man was only a primitive monkey without a thought process, it was said "And Man Can Now See Good and Evil". Even in the epic of His enemies, Satan did nothing wrong - he gave us eyes to see. Now, with consciousness, comes an understanding of positive, negative, likes and dislikes, and in general, things that can be either extremely pleasant, or unpleasant.

Maybe it wasn't included in this story that some of these "Humans" went back to Jehovah, and decided to remain retarded for eternity. Actually, this is what Christianity, Islam and Judaism came to correct later - Man had seen too many things, and he was becoming God. Therefore, he had to be stopped and to be returned into the form of a cattle. "God" was happy about this, but he loses sleep at night in that not all the "Goyim" are collected yet, (((("God")))) was always afraid of Man, and of Satan, and the spirit of Satan, in Man.

The weakening of present day humanity, and how brutish and worthless this strangely infested amalgam of weaklings is being shaped, is apparent. Freedom becomes only a burden to them. The moment Freedom means any form of unpleasantness, it's discarded, and people seek eternal "Convenience". This shows that we are moving away from Freedom, straight into a world of cattle. Humanity will increasingly become cattle, animals that are catered and cared for, for which superior powers will decide "Good and Evil", and whose sole purpose will be to just passively experience things in computer screens while they are getting data mined.

Freedom of speech is a great example here. We aren't talking about threats and ISIS terrorists, but the mere "weight" of people seeing other opinions than their Cultural Marxist own.

Freedom to speak comes with the freedom to insult, and get insulted, to praise and get praised, to lie and get lied to, and many other things. Freedom in this case, is the allowing of an exchange of power between parties. The brain-dead and weak people of today, cannot exchange any form of power [other than the sheer domination of their slavers, with a silk glove that strangulates them] and they demand to censor free speech. Then these types of people complain that they are only destined to become useless, domesticated, inferior races and cattle, but that is all one is good for.

To be free comes with a price, in that one can either utterly fail, or can utterly succeed. The limits towards both sides are open. Values of freedom come in opposition to values of full on convenience, and freedom comes with dangers and infinite prospects. As such many people do choose slavery as a sensible conclusion to their own weakness - they transfer their inability towards some sort of "Master" who takes care of them, and in return, they give up their freedom completely.

For example, they do not want to manage their feelings when they are confronted with an opinion. They consider a logical solution therefore, NOT to control their emotions, or understand that this is merely adult life, but their evil demands to destroy all rights to speech. The absurdity and weakness is reeking.

Think, for example, how many people have completely given up thinking, and they are like robots - some sort of other form or life-form will do their choosing for them, and all they will be is an enslaved vessel to them. All rights to thought are relinquished in front of a television. This shows that the mental level of present day humanity, for a huge inflated ego they all possess, is no better than that of a toddler.

Elevation of freedom hating politics and beliefs, such as let's say Christianity [a big sky daddy takes care of all the universe, who does everything required for enslaving the petty goy], or Communism, is just a symptom of this psychopathology, bastardization, and inferiority within the present day man. All decisions are transferred elsewhere, into the "Collective" to make, while they themselves take a zero-responsibility policy towards everything. Writers in the past who have criticized democracy, talked on how democracy comes with some burden, and it is true. Everyone becomes a carrier of a little piece of responsibility in a Democracy.

But on leftist Jewtopias none of that ever exists again. You won't vote again and have to get your shaggy ass up. Nobody insults you, because nobody can speak. Nobody can question you, because nobody is thinking to pose any questions. Nobody wonders, because there is nothing to wonder about - the ultimate 'truth' is only the leftist jew and mongrel infested party, which tells you, that your slavery is very convenient, and that you will be happier as a slave than as a free man.

The problem with these slaves is that these have no consciousness, so do not get fooled when you see them supposedly enjoying their enslaved existence. True happiness can even come from suffering, where there is consciousness involved. These slaves are just idle in themselves. Other than their heart beating, they are internally dead and damned. Relinquishing your rights to your personal existence, and your freedoms, will lead to an everlasting despair and eternal nihilism.

Their nihilism and dead soul reflect so strongly in them, that they want to ruin the whole world to make it submit into their strange prototype of enslaved damnation. They hope to create more internally dead people same as themselves.

Think of what happens to the nest of Eagles, when you bring many rats to live in it, somehow. The rats shit on the nest, and devour it. It certainly does not represent the house of any Eagles anymore. If anything, it doesn't even represent a memory. Old Eagles die screeching in agony for their lost home, but the rats are very happy they destroyed the Eagle's nest.

Now, the oppressor is finally gone, and the rats can keep on ratting for the rest of eternity, they think. At first, they wanted to be friends with the Eagle, to partake in his creation. But then their instincts of destruction and jealousy started kicking in violently, and they destroyed the Eagle's nest. "Very satisfying to destroy the nest of the Eagle", they think to themselves, rubbing their rat hands. "We got back to him from our issues of inferiority and how worthless we were feeling!". Then, they realize they are sitting in the middle of the mountain, with nowhere to go, and nothing to eat. As they die, they cannibalize one another, and then they all die.

The Eagle will set his nest elsewhere, and then elsewhere, because the Eagle can and the Eagle will fly.

The revolution of the inferior and the weaklings of mind and soul is a very true thing. It started with the first usurping of natural laws of advancement with Christianity, where the retard was crowned the inheritor of the earth, and from there on, the creation of the world into a zoo of slaves for jewish use as humanity's sole destiny, did begin.

The United States is an example here, two thousand years later after the founding of Christianity. The values of the Founding Fathers, who were blood, sword, intelligence, nobility, masters of life, are no longer reflecting on the amalgam of crap that is being generated by the systematic stupefaction of the masses today. The things they penned in blood are not even understood. But how could a chicken ever understand the writing of an Eagle, and how could it live inside its nest? A chicken cannot even handle the altitude, it feels cursed to exist where an Eagle was living.

Notions of Freedom created to reflect the powers of free men and a balance between these, are collapsing, into the ancient Abrahamic cesspool of weaklings, jews, slaves, and related subhuman garbage. Freedom is too big and heavy for their little shoulders. It's almost as if these types of people are only begging to become completely enslaved.

The "Free Man" of the future is not a strong man, with strong moral shoulders, an acute mind, or a great body, but a thing going on a strange oversized creature with pink hair, riding a scooter in Walmart, shouting Communist Slogans, wielding a hammer and sickle [that are never used in the field], while wearing a VR headset to watch more and more food of what it's going to consume, food videos all day long. The Scooter is remotely driven by Elon Musk's technology as the Creature is too incapable to drive a scooter, due to gapping out on the wheel all the time. It's intravenously fed medication 24/7, because the Creature's owners want it to be "happy". Occasionally Mark Zuccerborg will flash some ads into this creature's fat infested brain, through an implanted microchip created by Elon Musk, and these are this Creature's divine revelations.

This creature will be called Homo Judaicus. And the "God" of the Hebrews saw his creation, and he wept and said in whiny high-pitched voice: "Finally, that is the manifested plan I had about Adam in the garden, my sons the jews gave to me the most worthless and botched followers I could ever imagine. Satan is finally begone from this creation, he's a perfect golem!".

For all the Gods and Men that have existed, have forsaken this land, and now this creature above is our new "God", Homo Judeus. Their "Opinion" must be worshipped, and never questioned - Because Facebook will ban you for doing so! Behind said creature is a jew with a giant whip, and slams it on its fat and huge ever-flowing belly ripples. The Creature doesn't bat an eyelid as it's too immersed in VR to feel anything. The mission of these two is that the Ubermensch should never exist. Drinking the tenth gallon of Coca Cola for this day, the creature praises Communism and thanks (((God))) the National Socialists did not win the war. "Thankfully the best creature we will have by 2050 is ME and only ME!", the thing proudly exclaims, while drooling from its permanently attached VR headset.

Homo Judaicus is really the fear and terror of many living species, primarily over two of his greatest assets. One is the smell of its sweat, that can kill people that come close at around 20ft diameter. The second mighty weapon of Homo Judaicus is that every time it happens to exit its comatose situation and listen to any of the code words such as "Freedom", he farts loudly, which is known to kill people in a 20ft diameter also. This has made Homo Judaicus a formidable opponent. Homo Judaicus have also been found disconnected from their scooters, reading verses from Karl Marx's Das Kapital in so high-pitched voice, that people around them started going insane. Homo Judaicus's weakness is to cut off the Wi-Fi connection, bar fast food chains, and in general, disconnect them from their pet owner jews, which makes them go into a tantrum that lasts anywhere from 5 to 10 minutes. During this phase, Homo Judaicus cries loudly and shouts "MY FEEEEELZ!!!".

Because it truly takes a subhuman to want to create a world of slavery and damnation for everyone else into a world of freedom just for "moral convenience". The argument now is "my feelings of convenience" vs "all the meaningful things on this planet that make the planet liveable and life worth living", is a non-argument. Homo Judaicus is a dangerous creature emerging in our times, and it has to be fought, its values, its symbolic representation, and how gross it is.

Now one may think, but this is not dangerous at all. The rule of the mob in a jewish infested civilization is always a dangerous thing. Signals are showing us that we are moving towards a less and less freedom loving world, not a more freedom loving world.

Add this to the 2800 Talmud Promised Homo Judaicus slaves for each jew, and them rallying with the scooters, and they will run our world apart. These could be used for tanks in a Chinese Communist uprising in the United States [Led by the mummy of Bernie Sanders, mounted on AOC], better be proactive, so that we don't have problems with them later. We certainly don't want mad jews and inferior garbage to impose their ideas and make our world a living incarnated permanent nightmare. This world can do better than that. Now, disturbing jokes aside...

Whatever happens in your existence, do not allow yourselves to be swarmed by these types of weak sub-humans, who have made it their lives' mission to decay, destroy, and uproot everything valuable from this world. You are a better soul than this. Always remember who you are, and what yours and our values are. We have chosen FREEDOM, with a price most people wouldn't even want to pay. It's alright if one falters a bit, or if one is not perfect, or if one does mistakes. What matters is our general stance against this plague of degradation of all beauty, meaning, and value of this world.

Flex your wings and learn flight, fellow Satanists, because we are eagles trying to fight slaves and rats, and we have yet to free many Eagles.

HAIL SATAN!!!
