

The Dedication Ritual: Path to Initiation

High Priest Hooded Cobra 666

December 14, 2022

SunAndMoon [wrote]:

...

Looking at this overall I understand that there are lots of folks who don't take the concept of Priesthood seriously at all but I gotta say what the world is today is a very bleak picture and the kind of dedication you're talking about is very much all consuming making this an even more bleak picture. Is there ever any chance for people in such a position to even live their lives or solve their problems? Even a few hours of spells a day is a challenge for most or feels outright impossible to them (seemingly there is almost always a problem or some attack or binding working against people and it gets only harder over time in the serious situations) and they aren't even Clergy. Adding to this the constant fucking insanity of team toilet like wannabes and the like. In the state of all this how is man to get by.

Satan says: Responsibility to the Responsible.

Further, through this, we attain freedom, power, enlightenment.

By not adopting any responsibility in our lives, we become slaves, worthless, and diseased creatures filled with endless disgusting qualities.

Having it backwards, many people think that responsibility will enslave you, but the reality is that a certain degree of responsibility actually brings you closer to all the desired things like freedom and so on.

The key thing in the ritual of Dedication to Father Satan is this: Affirmation to approve the responsibility of one's own soul.

No Rabbi kike Jesus, no delusional shit, no lies - the lies are renounced, be these Islam or Christianity. We live in an era of lies, therefore, the first thing is to cleanse one's self from the lie.

Jewish tricks no longer work, one experiences the first awakening of self responsibility. One no longer believes in fairy tales that one will be taken to any heaven, and one bites from the Tree of Knowledge.

The path of the Godhead is opened, in contrast to the path of those who are built for lies and slavery.

One initiates themselves in front of the Gods, to receive the knowledge of the Soul, the responsibility of existence, the power, freedom and capacity that comes with it, to receive enlightenment, and to see the Godhead for themselves.

Satan Lucifer represents two things: Satan represents the Truth, but also, like the symbolism of Shiva, the dark aspect of reality, the Yang. The unknown, the unsurpassable, the source of all things in the universe. That "Which is not" and that "Which is everything".

Lucifer on the other hand, represents illumination, the light of creation and the notion of enlightenment, to receive self awareness, to have a soul in the midst of the darkness of ignorance.

To say therefore, "Satan Lucifer", we encompass all of existence, seen and unseen, real and potential, now and forever.

From this, we are told to recognize and honor Satan Lucifer, nothing else. The activation of the sense of recognition, is actually the activation of the sense of seeing.

Recognition has to do with awareness - to finally come to our senses that something exists. After this is recognized, we are going to honor it, which means to come into blissful contact and acceptance of the supreme existence, but also show appreciation.

Honor also unavoidably is linked with accepting given grace, because when we recognize the existence of what is called "The Light" and "Para-Siva" or the creation, we can only be thankful that we exist. Father Satan asks for nothing else, and only by this, He guides us further into our personal and existential endeavour.

Satan/Lucifer recognizes no bargain. There is no term of selling anything. One merely tells the Gods, face to face, that one's inquiry is serious; and to be guided into one's endeavours in their existence. Existence itself, is endeavored to lead to the Godhead as the Joy of Satan describes very vividly.

To take the conversation on this very important subject a bit further, the "World" is at this bleak condition as more and more human beings do not take responsibility about anything, and they have become freaks and monsters who do not care for one another but are just looking for.

We follow lies. Primary lies professed by the enemy in their "religious programs" have led people to the following states of decay:

1. A quick injection to feel good [Muh drugs, quick fuck and leave, abandonment of kids etc]
2. A fake solution to all problems, that generally doesn't work [Jeboo take the wheel!!!]
3. Are deathly afraid to assume responsibility, ranging from political office, to cleaning the street in front of their house [God will judge them, while we sit there not even criticizing]
4. They are that retarded, where they do not even want to take any responsibility for their own "soul", acting in reverse of what we do here. ["Jeboo will forgive no matter what!!"]

They have "Jeboo" the wish granting machine instead, just ask for forgiveness goy and you are forgiven type of shit, completely unrealistic on the spiritual level. Unresolved issues piling up to the heavens, managed by nobody and none, then collapsing onto the head of society.

Then their soul ends in shit oblivion, which society pays indirectly because their dross soul manifests dross in the social circumstance.

5. Nobody wants to take the steps necessary to do something big or great. The civilization we live in up until now, was built on the footsteps of more or less responsible and strong people. They shed blood, wrote rights charters, and fought many wars so that humans today can have a better existence.

Now, every idiot sits down wanting to do nothing, get everywhere, and every cancerous ego out there is a "princess" and a "president" and a "boss" without having any of the related reality or responsibility, likely not even being so in VR.

Now people flee from basic shit like "Muh can't answer the lil kids on JoS forums bcz im too mighty for that shit", which in my view for people who are awakened like JoS people, is unacceptable.

6. Certain people are also too much down the spiral of delusion, that they are in love with lies and falsehood, like Cypher the traitor from the Matrix movie, whose favorite statement was "Ignorance Is Bliss", and because he accepted this foolish statement, he became a living cancer and the main antagonist to the Savior or "Truth", who was Neo in that movie.

Society and the jewtrix always promotes that humanity must remain asleep.

The above is called degeneracy. As one can see, the path upwards and higher, towards enlightenment, is what we walk, and is diametrically opposed to the paths related above, all of which lead with certainty into first personal decay and then social decay.