This is a montage of videos calling for world kikedom to recite a prayer on Sunday, 21st of February, at 6 PM pissrael time.

It's almost like they're trying to emulate the Spiritual War Room.

If we aren't going to launch a massive schedule to have that fucking prayer shatter their rotten teeth as they're reciting it -- we could, at least, quadruple our FRTR efforts on that Sunday, methinks."

The enemy, all things considered, are here, and they are observing everything. It has been the case they have been also mailing in intervals to let everyone know.

They will also come here, writing in hebrew, visiting the forum, etc. This is why oftentimes you will see some jews asking literally to infiltrate us. Long story short, they read things and their more capable ones or those who spearhead their spiritual efforts, do see other things also.

They clearly steal and mimic the JoS as they did with other Gentiles from whom they stole spiritual information. What they are trying now is to make a botched situation where they recruit all their own to participate as an energy station for the work of other Rabbis at this date.

It's been known for a while that the enemy is not spiritually where they were decades ago. Because people have done actual work and they are pushed back. The world owes this to US and nobody else. Because nobody else does even half of what we do. Arguably, it was centuries until anything like this has happened.

So, when you see jews losing their minds here or other things, don't question why this is the case. For once Gentiles have someone to defend them spiritually and this is all of us. That's not to rest on it, but it should make everyone proud of our efforts. We're doing very well.

Others have posted a lot of posts about how Rabbis have gone on red alert, telling them to speed it up, and do their utmost right now, and other things such as how "The Forces of Darkness [aka. us] are out of control". They also make statements of a "Final Battle" and other similar statements.

Specific jews have been clear that they need all the force they can muster, right here, right now. The enemy is just giving an emergency signal. This should tell everyone here also that it's not the time to sit idle. The next upcoming schedule will see to that.

Some people have reported here, also, unusual attacks and so forth. Well of course. Everyone gets these in a form or another. Because the enemy is at red alert. They are throwing everything they have. Without going into many details, the things they are using now, are things that can easily come back to destroy them if they are not in control of the situation.

They project a lot of negativity on the spiritual environment. Gentiles always paid for this. Meanwhile as far as we are concerned, we merely reverse their protection and wiping the whole thing out. Think of this as a stupid mage who has summoned Andras, Andras is ready to destroy them, and we go there and we remove their "protective circle".

That will be it for them...

This is not to be underestimated as these people have done a lot of evil and they had nobody to contest them or stop it. No matter what happens, the Tetra and FRTR are going to guarantee none of their garbage does work. So, no matter what happens, or even if the heavens fall flat, this has to continue until they are done.

These will reassure this happens. Those who are here for a long time understand the differences "up there", and how this has affected everything. The enemy also dropped the formalities and they are letting everyone know too.

Soon there will be an upcoming schedule. As the situation has it, the enemy is rapidly losing this when it comes to the social aspects of what they want to prepare. The world may in general be in their control but the supernal forces are drifting to a disadvantage with them.

Their plan was: ultimate quarantines, removal of all rights and freedoms, crash it all, and then manifest a random kike to rule it all. This has been a plan they had in the works for a while.

Conspiracy theorists knew this for decades. To make this happen, except of buying out politicians and so on, nothing can help them more than spiritual power.

Broadly for jews, the "Mosiach" or "Messiah" is just a kike that is supposed to take over all the Gentile Nations, and impose global slavery. They have had this aim for many centuries.

Don't ask me if the above is a viable plan, the enemy is not only superstitious but evil and can be stupid because they are power hungry. They don't seem to even mind the details of said plan, nor how it could go wrong and they get destroyed instead.

Numerous jews are complaining about the situation that has befallen Israel over the "Co-Vid". Orthodox jews are beating up the police every day, and the police beat them. As always, they complain and kvetch that this is the end for them because they didn't get their way in a straight line as they are used to having.

Fate comes with an irony in that they are experiencing everything they have been creating for Gentiles to experience. For example, it was Nethanyahu, their president, who first declared a plan to microchip them in order to protect them from "Coronavirus".

This has been their eternal plan for the Gentiles. This time over, they escaped this by an inch. But it came really close to them.

"The Goat has returned back to them" in this case. Remember that ritual? Who knows what other tyrant Israel will have soon, which will probably destroy Israel entirely from the inside?

Jews are now trying to raise energy to simply direct it on Purim and their upcoming Pesach, in order to curse their enemies. This is generally followed by other acts as well. But all of it relies on their power, which is being hit for good.

This is why they make a desperate call to every single jew in order to pump as much psychic energy as possible in order for them to recharge their energy reserves.

These are thoughts they should have elaborated on what happens if things they plan for the goyim, backfire on them collectively instead. They don't like it when this happens. They are used to Gentiles carrying their curses and them being always fine.

Just look at the numerous social plagues they are creating in the West and worldwide, and ponder what happens when Israel will be "enriched" with the fruits of its own cursing labor done against Gentiles.

Civil wars, wars with other Nations, financial slavery, rampant talmudic fashion feminism, declining birthrates, economic collapse, spiritual oblivion, draconian governments that want to smash them and their rights entirely, and so forth. These only to name a prominent few.

They let loose the plagues and their physical agents do work politically and in other ways to manifest these plagues.

They name them "Progress" and give them the most fanciful coating. People get to see the fruit of this sometimes only too late. The thing is, with these plagues they generally also threaten the enemy.

When they open up these curses on the world and all the Gentiles, they are generally trying to keep themselves safe from these, by having a very strict nation that does not allow any of these influences to grow within Israel. They preach, for example, death by lowered birthrates only to Western civilization, and their agents will promote curbing of birthrates in other places, but not in Israel.

The enemy works by unleashing a lot of negative forces psychically on the environment, and then using knowledge, and the fact that others don't have it, to escape consequences.

This cannot be done forever and they are dependent on their rituals for this. Since these are being disabled, eventually, what they have reaped is what they are going to sow.

We're doing great and as time goes, we'll do better. Stay strong and focused SS Warriors, we are hitting HARD!
