

Backup Domain for Forums: www.ancient-forums.CO

We have another domain that points to the Forums. This is in case that the "New America" cannot tolerate Free Speech to the point where they have to do domain seizing or who knows what else.

The additional domain is same as the one we have now, minus the m in the end. Both .com and .co will work at the same time.

In case anyone visits the forums and the .com domain does not show something, use the .co
