There are 3 RTR's that need to be spammed in the following days.

Do you know what happens to all animals that for some reason do not fight, or just make a mistake on which battle is proper to fight for their survival? They die. And truly this is not always a bad fate.

There is a worse fate for the human 'animal'. In the case of a human, we can have not only death, but torture, humiliation, and enslavement.

Those who have eyes to see, can easily see that this world is plated in ignorance, vile animalistic instincts revolving around death and harm for no reason, and a firm order that enslaves people globally constantly, and keeps a watch over them 24/7. Of course some retards think if their so called 'personal life' is a bit better, that they are so free from this order, and they also falsely assume they are free. You are not, nor you are close to being free.

We are making steps in that regard, and guess what, our freedom means the disappearance of the enemy and their ensnarement, which they have gained after killing virtually the whole planet over many times. As for those who think they are free, these are the useful idiots who are being spied upon, and as nature teaches, when those in power have enough power, and the will to inflict harm, they will do it.

I tell you one thing, if we have a very bad memory, we will be punished for it, from our enemies. We have done some damage to the enemy, and scored some victories, but look in your life, and look in the world around you, and look on their attempts to put people in jail for facebook posts, and how they force bastardizing over the whole planet, and impoverishment, and you will quickly remember why we are doing this war.

There is no going back now. We must finish this war against them, and if we stop, we will be destroyed. The enemy feels shaken to their core at this point. Their fear is growing. They thought they were invincible and now Reptilie Zuckerberg has went in hiding. This is only the tippest of the tip of the iceberg.

Do you forget how many times they have attempted to completely destroy free speech just in a couple of months ago? Or other times where they tried to pass laws to put people that remotely criticize them in jail? Well then let's not forget what happens every year during passover to innocent Children.

This is one of the most basic rituals and strangleholds of the enemy for the year. We ruined this last year, their whole year went to shit. The same thing we did two years ago. Since, they have been failing. This year we also have the Shema, to intensify the effects, so you can only imagine what will happen to them next year.

This war is not some war that is 'something we can do tomorrow'. Tomorrow it's too late. What we do must be done NOW, vigilantly and daily. Screw the cattle, screw their rules, and screw their practices, all what these people know is their own self and they are leading this world to disaster. But we also belong in this world, and we must impose what *WE* consider important and proper.

Today and every today is when we must win this war.

There are only three Rituals to do, put above all others in importance, for the 30th, the 31st and the 1st coming up.
