Greetings to all of our Satanic Warriors and Family,

Below you is the next schedule we will be doing for the next few days. After this there will be another one with an in-between break. For those concerned about the day being early, the schedule is always posted one day in advance. So while we do our best to translate this, we are not falling "behind" the desired time. Also, major thanks to all of our translators who every time do their duty towards our Gods and our collective effort.

The planets are really favorable right now for doing major damage to the enemy, let alone that our Gods are getting an upper hand. This will later on manifest in human affairs, but also, clashes. Much of last year was only the enemy responding like a parasite on rabid that is afraid of a coming tidal wave. This schedule however "small", is to be taken seriously, and we should strive to uphold every single day completely.

This is to neutralize some negative things caused the enemy. The so called "Communications" RTR, is important now, and it should be done many times within this schedule. Much of what they do now with severing the travelling ties between Nations, is a very communist tactic, that is reliant on what they did on 9-11 numerologically.

After 9-11, nothing was ever the same in travellers and going to other places again. A form of this is shattering the communication lines of people, which will primarily affect the "West". After this, they have went on a maximum imposition of extreme measures, which were unknown to humanity prior to that event. This was a major kabbalistic curse that manifested on this tragic date, and the effects of this have been affecting the world since.

The next month is going to be really important, and everyone should participate in the schedule for maximum impact, because we are setting up for next month. Additionally, make sure to try to do your best now and don't skip any days. Since most people are on paid leave, vacation, studies break etc., and other things during August, some extra warfare is necessary for everyone to have a calmer month also. August is always a tragic month for the enemy, and has always been a most beautiful Pagan month of recreation.

Everyone who has been following the news, is seeing the clash of energies and how the enemy is trying to impose their agenda through difficult times such as these right now. Many people may not understand this yet, but despite the difficulties the world is undergoing right now, our side is continuously and steadily growing in power.

There are many who are walking already on the path that Satan wants them, but they don't really know it consciously. These people are giving up a fight for freedoms worldwide right now. And we need to boost them to succeed.

This is also what is causing the reactions of the enemy, and these are to be expected. Numerous posts have described in this board what the challenges are going to be. We are to do our duty to our Gods regardless of everything, and we will advance despite of anything, no matter what the enemy does.

One minor thing here, is that quite a few people are currently responding with fear to these. Fear is not a negative thing, and can actually mobilize people into action. If anything, especially the NPC's and others are better to be afraid right now of all that is to happen, but SS should have trust in the Gods and in ourselves. Transitory periods such as these now can be quite dark and unpredictable.

But everyone must remember that these are going to pass. We have been through these for like two years now. It's not like the enemy will stop, but since now there is resistance on the spiritual level, so many of their things are failing and collapsing way below their expectations for what "should ideally happen". The momentum has to be kept going.

Another thing that other SS have mailed me for, is about the duration of this war and so on. It will continue, but eventually everyone will after a point have easily overcome the enemy's bullshit. The path already provides the means to that end. Life by definition for the time being, has a battle in it. Most people avoid these thinking this is the best solution to problems, but it rarely is.

You become stronger, and you will have more power. Power will result then in peace. Our efforts are already manifesting themselves in the lives of many, but we are still in the very very early stages. Things are going to get even better with time.

The largest reason why our world is on these strange phases in the first place, is because for centuries, not many or very few people have done any engagement into spiritual warfare, so the enemy was throwing curses rampantly and without resistance by nobody. These later manifested and here we are today. Methodically, this will be reversed. By this, we are also saving ourselves.

Below is the schedule:

*Note, for brevity, the RTR Schedule below takes for granted that FRTR is Shattering and Tetra combined in a 3 to 1 as we usually do it.
