

1984 Tech Dystopia is Already Here

For those of you who are so reluctant and so logically thinking, to even believe these things, let me remind you, that what we are struggling to avert with our forces and education has already manifested like a poisonous mushroom elsewhere, exactly on this very planet, already.

This is in Communist China. In Communist China, you have a social ranking system, that ranks its citizens based on behaving good or bad (towards the state). This system ranks them and if one goes very low they simply can disappear, get un-personed, or be killed, and all of this is surveillance-based, or just experience a series of repercussions such as be unable to attend specific schools, go to the hospital and so forth.

Everyone knows about the great firewall of China, and the fact that there is no freedom of information in China either. The Communist secret police sees to breaking down and making dissidents disappear quite easily. It never makes it on the news anyway. Thinking naughty thoughts about those in power in China can be in many ways equal to engaging in actual crimes. Wrongthink is here.

China in many places also is not as "primitive" and Shenzhen is proof of this. Big nice skyscrapers, people like ants moving below in colorful clothing, and all the related "Funny" stuff that you have in the West, only, that everyone is survived like living cattle 24/7. Phones have to be used for any transactions and your ID is of secondary importance as all faces are recognized. The next logical step is the microchip, and then voila, the Communist Utopian Dystopia has materialized.

As I wrote in the past about the Yellow Vests, this is coming in Europe and it has long existed under blankets for a very long time, however, it will become more and more formalized. Rabbi Macron commanded beneath the nose of people for said facial recognition software to be more powerfully implemented, related to the Verichip company that runs the brain microchip. I also informed everyone about a topic where the first brain chips that are remotely controlled are already installed in people's brains in China, modulating and controlling their moods.

People are stupid as they are given "Convenience" in exchange for all their freedoms and personal existence. Then, one is taken complete control over, such as the meme of giving one's soul to Christ to be "Saved" from sin. Likewise, one has to forfeit all privacy, for glories such as getting your popcorn in the oven by Alexa 2 seconds faster than you normally would. You live in a Smart House now, and after all, this is sensible.

For example, if you are a bad goy boy, the Smart House may just lock your door, or your fridge door, or your water supply, and you may die like a trapped rat, but so long you are a good goy boy, you will get faster popcorn because you thought about it and therefore saved 2 seconds from putting it in the microwave yourself in the stupid pointless life one leads anyway. Looking up for some spirituality in China's Google may get you killed or something, and soon, in the beautiful and vibrant "West".

But you will have popcorn 2 seconds sooner and also you are able to turn your AC from the car, because apparently using the controller is too hard for the modern man.

The documentary here, as obviously very loose and not seeing the darker dimensions of this which Chinese people try to get out by escaping the internet (and disappearing as a result of their beloved and tech-loving futuristic government as a result) will not cover the whole story, but it will give you an idea.

In Communism, you can still drink beer. You can still go to the net. Indeed, you can still walk on the street, too. It's just that one day you may find yourself in the board of shame or just disappear out of the blue, that is all goy. Remember to embrace Socialism, let Google and Facebook mine everything you have, and allow your government to abuse you, as they are good people.

No need to have specific websites on the internet for evil goyim. Jews will make sure of this, as they are interested in your mental wellbeing (And their own safety from being judged and criticized about their crimes).

This 1984 is a joke compared to this reality that is about to emerge if people remain asleep. Guilty until proven innocent is the thing here, because we are all sinful goyim deep down:
