

Mixed Race People, Arabs, and "White" Yezidis

I wanted to clear up two or three very dysfunctional things that were put forth and confused a lot of people here. There are useless and disinformation, and have to be put in their own place to avoid further issues.

For one, it has been said that "One should go with the race that they feel more attracted towards". Ignorance here has been used even by the instructors and finders of these useless solutions, in what is material reality, and not a matter of feeling or any liberal sentimentality. Larping about how one 'is all about race' and pseudospiritualizing these matters where denying the evident isn't going to cut the deal either. As such these have to be put in proper context.

Race is far from a subject of what one likes or what dislikes. Anyone who has all the features of a black person but a little hue up the skin, equal to bleaching, did not suddenly become "White". Likewise, people who are half or race mixed, should simply go not "Where they feel like", as of course, due to brainwashing, most will decide to go with someone who will eventually breed out their race, but go where they have been mixed and where their bloodline will be restored faster in full power.

For example, in the case of a person who is half black, half white, if they go mate with "Whites" whom of course everyone will choose based on brainwashing, the "White" person in this union merely goes extinct. So the bullshit that started from some corrosive individual on go 'where you feel is best' is a train that leads to the same conclusive result as race mixing in itself.

Alternatively, if the person who is 'half black half white' chooses a person from Spain, Brazil, or many other places, where people are in the hundreds of billions in their ancestry already part black or part white, or has children with the Black race, the next generation of children will be instantly restored.

Likewise, the meme that "Go where you feel is best" is only a yet another liberal concoction as part of a greater disinformation campaign that was going on in our midst to loosen out what Satan wants to be fixed as the earth's axis. Race hardly has to do with any 'feelings' and 'going where you feel is best'. Loose minded people can feel as if they were fish or mermaids, but they cannot go live permanently into an aquarium. Reality has to be respected, where nature is concerned, for our better wellbeing.

In the case where one of the above example half white half black person, takes a "White" person as a partner, this will take and put in the gutter, progressively, 4 generations of white men or women, in the attempt to "Re-whiten" a line, a thing which will eventually not happen. This generates not only dead white people, but also, of course, one can be sure that their so called 'descendants' will marry Whites or will have the same objective for 're-whitening' a line.

Aka, it's all bullshit and MUH DICK and how one likes to have specific people to extinct them for personal preference, and pretending as a bitch that this is done for some sort of spiritual or racial concern. One is eventually race-mixing in the name of stopping race mixing, which is just another dumb absurdity and retardation. And of course, this amount of hypocrisy does not sit well with beings who are superior and don't want humanity to delay and self-destroy racially, or have their spiritual students turn into shit just because of MUH Dickism's.

This is a waste of time, wasted human material from both races, and incessant hypocrisy. It's better for one to go be a liberal and admit that they are a piece of dogshit, than to pretend the above in an attempt to bridge their pornified mentality, their need to engage in race mixing, and take gambling on life as if life was of lesser importance.

The bringing back of a line or continuing it as a person is can happen easily and efficiently in simply one generation. In the above example of a person being half black and half white, if they get a same person (such as many Latinas for example) the situation is fixed instantly in one generation. This also is great and unproblematic for the offspring, will not cause any identity dissonance, and they will be member of their respective tribe instantly.

The same thing is if one has a black partner, as the black will dominate instantly the genes and the children will return back to being black in one generation without any observable issues, and without harming the 'black people' in anyway. The ideal choice here would be however for someone to find someone the same as them.

This obsessive compulsive need to turn everything "White" is just nonsense, and many people who are not White have it simply because they have been drummed into racial self hate, but also hate for Whites, both of which are expressed by the need to race mix.

"Racial Order" does not have to be looked as the enemy instructs with a "Better" on the top and a "Worse" of the bottom of any people. Traditionally, all races looked at others in this way, and that is undeniable. Africans looked at Whites as inferiors, Asians believed they are better than all other races, Whites also have had the same. This is natural and it deals with one's confidence and sometimes "Nationalism".

But the above has nothing to do in regards to the natural axis of things. In that case, the races are put on a vertical line. When one asks "What race do they belong in", or evaluate themselves, one is not valuating themselves as an "INDIVIDUAL", who ranks "HIGHER OR LOWER" in regards to race, but rather, one seeks to find out where they fall into the natural order of things.

We do not seek to instate who is "BETTER", as the races are different, we just seek to put things in their place for the betterment and harmony for all. In plain, you do not value your value as a being when you evaluate your race. You just see where you 'fall' into this vertical line. Are you closer here, or there. That's all there is to it.

The enemy made people scared of the above, but they practice it relentlessly. They do DNA testing from certified Israeli corps that won't lie to them, look for genetic factors of themselves, practice eugenics, and everything else. These practices are pretty normal and go with the times. These are made as abnormal only in the minds of the people who are brainwashed to self-hate, and not understand how this goes.

Nobody has to become "White" or have in their mind "White" or any other race as the "Ideal standard". It is not the ideal standard for anyone but itself. Likewise, all other races, in their beauty and individuality, are their very own standard. Comparing people is bizarre, as in the end of the day, everyone is more attracted to their 'own' people. This is unconscious. The pornified brainwashing aside, this is also emotional, hormonal, and natural. Each race has to look after their own, and have their own ideal standards of what is ideal in beauty, taste, and everything else.

As another note, the "Yezidis" and many other people who have been talked to as "White" are in many cases below 15% White. A person who looks like a person from India, or who looks totally Chinese but has blue eyes, is not in any way White. Likewise, an Albino from Africa is not White, to give a stupid example. There are people in India with lighter skin but this doesn't make them White. The same is for many people who are Arabic. In these cases, one can be "Very White" but they are not really "White" in their entirety. People who have "Some" white blood in them aren't made White as a default.

"White Skin" or lighter skin does not make you "Whiter" either. People in Africa are not that infrequently born with "Lighter" skin but that doesn't make them any less African. This is common especially in women, which in all races, do display a paler skin. This can be inherited on the children, but only as a change of level, and not as a change of 'race'.

This was tied into the another lie mentioned above that where one will go mate is an aspect of "Go where you feel is best". This is the easy socialist liberal answer to answer a thing that is clearly biological. There is no sentimentality here, naturally, these things are solid. Likewise, loose interpolations were made to prove something as something that which is NOT. This picture below was used to show that Yezidis were "White", but the reality is, this "Yezidi" child is only one in a thousand. The hair is clearly bleached or colored.

The existence of an "Arabian" race has been disputed, but yes, it exists, as a blanket term. Arabs are now for thousands of years their very own subgroup of people, who share common characteristics. You can see an Arab in the street and understand they are Arabic from miles away, even if dressed in another way, but the same doesn't happen when you see a Polish person and a German person. Arabs are a distinct sub-race for thousands of years now that has formed as a result. Emotional sentimentality and calling them of all things "White" do not change biology.

The Yezidis in their majority look like this:

The above is not White. And guess what guys they do not NEED to be anything but what they are. We are supposed to be what we are. It doesn't have to be either, to prove anything. In every tribe where at some time immemorial there is some sort of blood from some other race, some features may re-emerge, such as let's say a pair of blue eyes. The Yezidis are a race that has from some time immemorial some part of White blood, but that's it. They are not 'White'. They can be compared to some other Arabs and one can say they are a bit 'whiter' but that's it. They do not have Norse characteristics or anything related.

White and racial matters in general have to be stopped to look as some form of dumb competition to get a percent of something as if one is to go to heaven by gaining more points of x color. This practice is common in a lot of places and puts everyone in a state of competition in regards to race, which is something people cannot really alter. This makes people 'attracted' to others whom they consider subconsciously the 'ideal' of the human race, and leads to race mixing, ironically producing only the same results as the self-hatred and extinction of a species that practiced into this.

In race mixed regions in the past, this comes either from rape, abduction of white women, or race traitors, or dumb socialistic individuals who treated their blood as if it were nothing and went to 'mate' with anything they found as if giving free welfare for the oppressed or something. The last category only matters lately, and in most cases, the 'mixing' was not at all voluntary.

The same notion was projected of "For All" with gradual corrosion of all the boundaries that make Satan, SATAN and the Gods in general, as being "givers to all without borders", and this was later projected as some sort of "White blood everywhere where everyone must compete to have some White blood", since it's "holy", and yadda yadda, bullshit. These people who made this exaggeration are clearly dumb.

Race mixing, which is the pariah of the ancient religion that Satan instated based on truth and nature, is a pariah low level practice, chandala level of consciousness, and a practice that is detestable and destructive to everyone involved. The existence of said 'proofs' of blood of one people into another is not some sort of 'celebration', let alone any that any True Satanist would like to see into this world. A true Satanist would understand that races need to reach the highest point of perfection in their own way, and not 'celebrate' the above.

One opens a history book and they understand that people never really mix without brainwashing or by the sword, into a percent as to disappear, because this is unnatural. The more this practice happens, the more 'we' as a civilization have to look at to what is going wrong, aka, the jews in our present case.

On the other hand, they are also frivolous liars and hypocrites who had the nerve to come here and preach from a podium all these above memes, as they pretend to at the same time, pretend to support some murky versions of 'racial hygiene' where everything non White was to be called White, and everything 'in the middle' was to be called 'right or left' so they are not unmasked and destroyed as blatant incapables with their very own disinfo agenda, or in plain slang, infiltrators.

"I don't condone race mixing, but hey I do, do as you see fit". In many things in life there are no middle lines, either one is with, or one is against.

Many of these racial mixtures happened in wars, and the Ancient Aryan culture was about racial hygiene or in simple words racial health and to mate with one's race, and not some sort of alien statement of a "Passing Aryan Race" that was going around and giving genetics as if they were a socialistic gift for 'mankind' as some sort of some 'great plan'. These were the pariahs and the lowlifes who engaged in this practice, the outcasts, and those who have not understood what it means to retain one's self to a proper standard. Then the rapists, abductors, and other said types.

If the so called "Breeding" was that systematic in any acceptable manner, the majority of people in the Middle East and in many other races would now be "White" at a stunning percent, and you wouldn't have to dig in tens of thousands of people to find just one or two "Kind of white" people in the Middle East. But it was not. It was a criminal offense. Even in the Roman times, it was a brutal criminal offense to engage in this practice, even if abroad, and even if one 'never brought any kids' back to Rome.

The end result is the same from all points of outlook. These are unnatural choices leading to unnatural and problematic situations, especially on the progeny. Of course, these people couldn't be more careless, as is usual of many of these 'muh dick' or 'muh vegana' types.

This is also why the majority of people in the regions where White people 'passed', only have miniscule of White blood, to the point of closely nonexistent, and at this point and aren't looking like second Europe. Regardless, many of these people made their own choices later, to maintain and keep somehow their own racial integrity, which has some people having to a minor extent some White blood. This was part of their own eugenic program or outlook.

Much of this mixing on the world is also quite 'recent', and does not extend as many as tens of thousands of years back in time. For one, this defiles the doers, for two, this extinct the victims. It was never the intention of Whites to do either to anyone else, in contrast to how many others see the matter today where they try to "breed dis queef" to make another go extinct during what is allegedly peace time. Peace time with demographic extinction does not really coincide. From the scope of the traditional Aryan culture, this is an abomination practice, and only delays the evolution of everyone involved, and creates an irreversible situation where people that could create more of their people are permanently lost.

The Aryans had a racial code of conduct out of respect for the very biology of other people and not seeking to destroy or ruin them. At least this was the common line. Compare this to the jews who want everyone mixed until they have three livers and four kidneys, and you will understand how each respective group of people sees this planet.

Of course, this does not affect the people who are born out of this, i.e. the offspring of this practice, and that is perfectly logical that this is not the case that the offspring is 'bad'. What one is solely responsible for is how they will act by their own choice and decision. One has done nothing wrong simply because they were born. However, what we do with this very birth and how we conduct ourselves to the advancement or destruction, drawing back, or advancing this world really matters. It also matters from a biological standpoint.

Everyone can develop, and everyone can eventually evolve, become a master, have advanced progeny, and everything else imaginable. However, the consensus is that people should make the CLEVER decisions, and especially, the spiritual people, in racial matters, to ACCELERATE our evolutionary way and HARMONIZE it. People who are great are to take clever decisions based on clever knowledge they possess.

Now, before people ask, "How many people did engage into this?". Very few. A very few people who have said relationships, in the passing of time, can generate different races of people. Even one hundred people in the old times engaging in said relationships would be enough today, many generations later, to create possibly tens or more thousands of people. This is how many newer subraces were created. And that is fine at this point as these races have 'solidified'. This is why Arabs and many other larger ethnic groups are now 'distinct' and prominent, and have solidified as their own types of people. Not all arabs are the same, but they are a same categorization with very similar traits in all ways.

The same goes for Europeans, people in the continent are White European, with certain deviancy of some people who are strained, but that's it. Even Africans have went through a similar process. Contrary to popular belief, not all Africans are all the 'same'. Different tribes have different emotional, physiological, mental and general traits. They all classify as African people, but they have a lot of differences. For example, Kenyan women are still regarded as some of the most 'beautiful' women in Africa, and they are not the same as the people from Congo. Yet, all constitute a greater 'African race'.

The Gods have helped everyone who was true to them, befriended and guided Gentiles for centuries, and gave us the spiritual and material science to understand how we are to handle ourselves as species to prosper and advance.

A lot of people who are considered gods and goddesses or extremely beautiful or charismatic even today, in all races in regards to their beauty, attractiveness, or other superior abilities (we do not formally call them that way anymore) are products of the application of conscious or unconscious eugenics, development, and beautifully stacking life to where it manifests better. To make this conscious is to practice eugenics.

Lastly, trying to 'metaphysicalise' everything is as jewish as jewish hyper-materialism. One cannot, and does NOT need to try to have hopeless dreams of 'changing' their race, self-hating their features, and damning themselves because they have a mind out of control that takes weird things as standards and self damns. One does not need to "whiten" or "blacken" from meditation.

Self-hatred is a mental problem that anyone can have, despite of race or whatever. Depending on what 'reasoning' is put in front of self-hatred, a lot of people heap this tendency into just about anything, from finances, to ironically truths about race. Self-hatred is not really related to what one is, but just a random problem. In other words, if one self-hates, anything from race to features to themselves will seem as an excuse. Meditation evens things out here and heals the soul and mind.

At best, meditation will only better what one is, and that is the whole point, and not 'change' someone as if someone was born a wolf and turn them into a lion. Likewise, part jewish slugs cannot be turned into Gentiles. Do nose jobs, edit genes, jump from cliffs to make your legs better, pluck eyeballs out, you will never be 'Aryan', 'Black' or 'Asian'.

The irony is the jews walk literally unhinged in being the most hideous beings this planet has created, even 'proudly' of their jewishness, and Gentiles who all have valuable natural beauty, a strong soul, and generally every trait that the jews were always jealous for, are constantly guilt tripped to want something else. When you radiate with a powerful self-acceptance, you will understand we are blessed to be created by the Gods in our differences, and understand the importance for each to drag their own way.

Now that these jewish interpolations that were put to an end from their attempts to be embed strongly into a lot of material here are cleared up, everyone can have a clear perspective, finally relax, let go, and see matters as they are without tainting or self-created drama.

A greater era awaits when humanity moves past the jewish mental viruses, which only create pain, lack of fun, and suffering for everyone involved.
