

The Innocents

The jew always loves blaming innocents for what has been inflicted on them, by the jews themselves. The master of jews, Rabbi Jesus is also the one who always and constantly preaches the 'whitewashing' of the innocent and the stupid into their own stupidity, that is, always good and saved. This always ensures one thing: The victim is never put in their place to stop being a victim. Being a victim is good in the eyes of 'god', and one can always be an innocent victim and still go into 'heaven', no matter how much suffering this stance inflicts upon the earth.

The jew dirties the innocents, and then cleanses them in the foul waters of their own stupidity. The victim then feels dignified, and keeps being a victim for the rest of their life, giving ultimate power to the jews. You're not a problem if you never have advanced, as "Jesus will save you". It's not a problem if you're a retard, as the "Retarded Will go to heaven". "It's not a problem when you let all the jews destroy your nations, as you have been good and sharing goyim with the rest of the people of the world, and prostituted yourselves good enough for jewish interests".

So the jews blame the innocents, but is there any blame on them in reality? Or are they simply purely victims that are totally swindled and deceived? Yes, and no. They are innocent, but also, we carry one burden and major mistake, especially today: the mistake of denial of spiritual truth. This is the greatest and gravest mistake in which humanity has fallen before, and again and again, and also, what ultimately gives rise to the jews, as much as not one planting their crops, creates famine in the future. The jew rises out of the downfall of which some people have allowed themselves.

The jews are a spiritual criminal mafia that uses and abuses spiritual knowledge to dominate the populace. Good and true of a statement. But what are Gentiles doing? What many xians have done for many hundreds of years, is they simply whined on the fact. "Oh, the jews do sorcery, but at least, we are good xtians we do nothing but pray to the jew, to accomplish nothing". 2000 years later, we have the same shit problems, because of these retards who didn't want to engage into some 'fearful domains' in order to solve the jewish problem.

From these denominations came all sorts of other failures who merely complained about the jews rather than wage a retaliation war of spiritual power against them, like we are doing. Which we have changed today with our presence. What the idiots failed to do for 2000 years, we are fighting back effectively in less than 20, as I have repeated through the years. Imagine my shock.

This is because one went to 'hell' with the innocent status, and just came up and said, wait a second, maybe, they are bullshitting me. Maybe I need to see what the 'evil' guys have to say, and screw my personal 'saving' from innocent. And lo and behold the depth and insight of this revelation.

This is possible, because yes, the innocent carry a big burden: the burden of their own 'innocence', or occasional stupidity, which comes with an extraordinary amount of comfort, and ability to not give any fucks whatsoever. This is something which in accordance to human logical standards doesn't matter and is incoherent to blame people for being put under control and made to do all the crap they are doing. This is why we are helping people out of this rut imposed by the enemy and their world. But this situation is an emergency signal by nature: "GET MORE AWARE!" it what the siren sounds, and violently so.

The general populace is largely innocent, and Hitler wrote this in his book as well, that the people are not supposed to think of all of the machinations of jews, and suspect them, since most people are not jews, so they are innocent. But what he mentions in regards to the responsibility, is the essence of natural retribution, which arises from ignorance, and for which, one is never not liable, if they fall into deception. In other words, if one fell into heavy drug use, they may not be responsible for the problem weaved around this, but they are responsible for their own weakness which lead to this downfall, and not stopping it earlier.

One has consciousness to break free, and a mind to think. These are no longer the Middle Ages. And with this consciousness do come, unavoidably, responsibilities. Ironically, even in the Middle Ages, the situation was that people, aside all dangers, lost the day in revolting, but won the future. This is why we exist to day, in a state which, many others are scattering into the winds, thinking it's some sort of constant universal thing. No, the situation is, not too long ago, people were cattle slaves.

And because some people chose to face this situation face to face, and fight, we have a better living condition as a result, undesired by the ruling powers. These people could not only claim innocence to not act, but also, the obvious: that in their time, there was no internet to write, and one would find the axe on their head if they talked on the public. Now, one can simply do what they have to do, without getting an axe onto their heads safely and anonymously, and still, people are hesitant? One has to be stupid.

In nature's standards, stupidity and ignorance are lethal wrongdoings, which lead someone faster to the grave, than anything else. So the enemy goes there to attack them on top of this wrongdoing and natural flaw. And since these natural rules are higher than the social rules, these can always be used to leverage any situation into anything just by use of these rules.

Normally, with all the existential crimes happening now in humanity, one would rather expect people to turn inwards and say, wait a second, maybe, we as a world, are fucking up? But ironically a large portion of people is only trying only harder to prove their innocence and stay on an idle level of consciousness. Turning into an NPC, they believe, is what will grant them a lot of peace of life. Rather, it only turns them further into pieces.

Many people do the mistake of putting the social rules or human rules of understanding above natural understanding, which simply, collapses the things they have created. Such arrogance has been applied by the good heated and pseudo-spiritual spawns of the 'universal humanity' and 'good life for all' in Europe, who now enjoy the downfall of great countries, built by the blood, sacrifices, and toil, of endless generations. Because apparently it's of greater importance to satisfy Abdul the rapist, than 10 lines of your own generations who built the same streets that today are given for free to 'child migrant' Abdul which is 30 years old.

According to them, this is because we must be 'superior', 'spiritual' to nature, and this is 'ideologically superior' and not apply it's rules where life is concerned, for we are higher than it. In their dictionary, death is superior to life - because one is brave enough to neglect life. These mentally ill people have turned their weakness into superior morality, because they have a high nose. The egoless are the most egotistic, as per usual, and they seek to egotistically impose their 'egoless' pretexts of alien life into life, existence, and everyone else on the planet.

And when this fails, imagine their shock. Abdul turns out didn't want to join advanced civilization, and in turn, turned people into kebabs. The high nose of some people cannot conceive this.

How dare nature not comply to our bullshit mentality? Wow, what a shock.

Ironically, a man without water dies in two days, and one's existence is erased. However, without kosher human rights 'morality', we could survive for millions of years and be just fine, how people did before Judeo-Xian morality of death and decay. Christians and xian offshoots preaching about life is like a rapist that says that they are expanding the species during their rape, and that therefore this makes it formal - a negative is taken for a positive, by the mentally sick and the demented.

Now of course the innocent do carry these weights, but this wouldn't be the case if society wasn't fragmented and destroyed in the first place. Of course, a 16 year old person is innocent and lacks experience of what is going on in the world. Therefore, others who are more experienced and have the nose to smell the danger, should be in place to protect these people whose sense of smell is still growing. One can think here of the Hitler government to understand how this is supposed to operate in a healthy civilization. The strong must guard and protect the weaker, until they can themselves become, hopefully, stronger. Those who do not engage in this process of life willingly, are dangerous. This is because life's will is obvious, it's for beings to evolve and become powerful, each to their own, for the continuation of a species and life.

There are levels and levels of innocence that someone can claim. Ultimately, all Gentiles, on the highest level of it, are 'innocent'. But this is the most easy bail out to give someone, and one bailout that is dangerous since it doesn't show any of the fundamental reasons of why people were victimized and destroyed in the first way. Also, it doesn't help nobody advance. This is the victimhood status in reverse: The innocent is the victim, and the eternal victim, who, always hides behind his innocence to enter heaven and be excused for handing this world over to the world's dross.

They seek, in other words, to relinquish all the responsibility incumbent in themselves, by nature on her own. And they don't give a damn if the world burns based on this understanding of theirs.

One can just take their 'innocence' and go keep goyiming this world out of existence. "My daughter was killed by Muslims!", "Oh, you're innocent". But you were not, existentially innocent, when you were not protesting, and when you did nothing to socially or otherwise prevent this.

The goyim who are in the middle and just watch our forces and the enemy juke it out, may be on a state of 'inertia', but their 'inertia' is something both sides use, as one uses an idle stone to throw it to their enemies, or build a structure. The inertia of the masses is not 'innocent'.

While people do not do these things consciously, they are responsible for not being conscious enough. It should be put instantly as a necessity for them to grow, become more powerful, and understand more, that is, before it is too late. Because yes, civilizations reach a level where 'too late' just arrives, and they just collapse.

When one comes around in Satanism, they have understood the first and fundamental 'wrongdoing' they have done to themselves: Not having power, and not having understanding; one seeks to fix this wrong by dedicating and advancing in this path. One can call themselves 'innocent', insofar they work to correct a wrong, not simply because they didn't notice it or willingly ignored it.

Also, the situation is becoming harder and harder everyday to say that one is not noticing the obvious. If one has lived in Paris and they say they haven't understood that the town now belongs to people of foreign nation and descent, one has to either be blind or a liar. Did Americans also miss the other data of the CIA which says that Whites will be essentially a non-existent minority by 2050? How innocent of everyone. They just didn't know. Even when in most cases these news became literally trending everywhere, in every tv set, in all the internet, and everywhere else.

One is not being innocent. One is a coward, and a retard, and one has to accept this reality. There was the other family who had their daughter raped and killed by a few of these people and they also excused the rapist, in Sweden. Then, compensation was given to the rapist, was he did not rape - he was just streaming on facebook and masturbating, so they were wrongly accused!

When they had the podium to tell the jewish system to fuck off, all they did was praise it, and excuse it, because they were weak. A moment of power was given to them, and they did nothing with it. This opens the door for the next, and the next, and the next rape.

Ironically, for whatever reason, innocence has been made into something to justify the denial of knowing. If this were the case, when people were judged legally, they could claim they didn't know the law, and get away with it. "I did not understand it was wrong to kill this guy, sorry, I'm innocent". But this does not pass. Why? Because ignorance of the outer reality does not invalidate inaction, inertia, or wrong action. Stupidity or someone being of low IQ doesn't solve or make them bail out, either. This is not by coincidence, it is because this complies with the rules of existence.

People have to look at themselves and accept the so called 'burden' of responsibility of life, before it is too late. The same people who want to be the 'great mass of people' in the future, with elevated privileges and powers, do not want to have any responsibility of anything carried of these things. The responsibility is always thrown to other people, 'leaders', 'jews', whatever else. As much as responsibility these beings have, in the total level, and as much as it's their fault, it's also the so called 'innocent people's fault' that they did not act to change matters, at least, on a personal level.

If one was an animal, we might as well call them innocent, since, animals cannot figure out what is going on on very extended logical planning done against them. A pig is innocent that it's in a stable. But as for a man, one cannot state they are 'innocent' of it entirely, especially, since most people rallied themselves and the world into this stable, for personal gains or otherwise gains.

One may not know that it wasn't the proper thing to do to throw gays off of rooftops, but they did it, to gain 'social acceptance'.

This is the fundamental disagreement I have with the pointlessness of the blaming the jews for everything, and how the people are innocent. Anyone can simply blame the jews, but the importance of the subject is to actually solve this spiritual problem. Normal people are duped into their control, unknowing of their existential crimes, but not in full innocent. To maintain an innocent status, one also expects always a bailout and to be absolved from everything, at the expense of other people. Humanity needs to mature past the point where beings like the enemy are understood for what they are, and dealt with for corrupting societies, and worlds.

As for those who abet them even in ignorance, they are far from 'innocent', and this is one of the reasons Hitler mentioned there will be retaliation of these types of people in the Mein Kampf, not as punishment from "God", but as a form of natural retribution and return to Justice, to paraphrase. For example, the hoards of uncontrollable military age 'migrant' population, will have a huge backlash, it doesn't matter what one understands of this or not, and it's already manifesting. He also added that when a situation reaches a critical extent with this type of ignorance, everything is lost. This was a direct statement of reality right there.

As stated, by logical standards, we cannot 'blame' these people and hold it against them, let alone, punish them further, for they are already, in all forms, very cursed from their own ignorance. This is why we are helping them rise out of this pit. Or to be exact, we are raising them out of this pit by spiritual power, ourselves. This is a honorable deed coming from our side, to help humanity out. The jews themselves cry and whine the Demons helped us advance and move away from the machinations of their racial conspiracy against mankind.

However, from natural standards and a natural standpoint, the fact one is digging the grave of their own people, and never turned around to look to their behavior, and wants to still be called 'human' is absurd and illogical too. It's sickening to see someone advocate for things proven to cause the opposite of their results. It doesn't matter how one decorates this, as in 'it's a humane thing to do' or all sorts of other garbage.

One must claim their humanity, despite the fact we are 'human' as a species. Part of this is the personal responsibility of the outcome of our own actions, personally and universally. One must understand that holding a banner of rapefugees welcome, does indeed create the raped kids and the killed women later, is a viable opening to these events. The situation of people's level is something that people have to fix on their own and rise to a better level of understanding.

In the future Age of Aquarius, the "I dindu nuffins" and the innocent muffins who supposedly 'did not know' will be removed from the equation of power. The future of civilization built by the Gods, progressively, through the next millennium, if we construct it successfully, will weed out this category of dindu nuffins who have wrote history based on their own idle weight of lack of knowledge. It will be like Egypt.

You will not be able to say you dindu know nuffin on how to clean your aura or advance, where advice on how to do such will be on every post, like today are Coca Cola ads. Does anyone on the planet now, even in the most remote places, have never heard of a Coca Cola, to name the most stupid of all the possible examples? The problem of this world is that Coca Cola is more advertised than the means that will save it and put it in proper motion.

The next level of spiritual existence and level of existence of man will be one away from the lack of knowledge of the past. This is why we have to spread, through the WWW=666, the meaning and truth of Satan to the earth. Which nullifies the enemy's lies and invalidates the enemy's work, but also - extends the hand of Satan to the people in order to develop.

This will be the question of the future, where the cattle will be fed, but they will not matter either. The future will be defined by this question becoming more and more pressing and compulsive to answer - sort of how like the people in France today were asked: "The jew plan is at hand, do you want to live, or do you want to die?", to which they replied by revolting. Cattle for comfort that will never really arrive, or to stand on your two feet and fight for something better?

The innocence that comes from total ignorance towards the enemy, will have to give in, if humanity wants to live and also rise its levels higher. It just cannot go indefinitely.

Do you want to join the creators and the aware, or, you want to be jew cattle? This will be the pressing question of the future, for which, people will be forced to answer, because as it looks like, it won't be long until people are literally forced to come face to face with these matters. The inertia of the "innocent" for too long has overburdened this world, and the weight collapses on the backs of the living, crushing them actively, and giving birth out of this to a better world.

We are here to make sure this situation will turn out for the best, with our spiritual means and education.
