

A Most Decisive Time For The War

Greetings to all of our Satanic Warriors and Family.

Brothers and Sisters, as everyone can observe, the situation may be difficult, that is for sure, but also, bring your attention to all the positives which have been happening: The enemy is very cornered, the energies have been calmer than ever in regards to the enemy, and so many plots of the enemy are coming bursting out in the open. Indeed, despite the disruptions, and some negative things, and all the plans of the enemy, it all tends to work against them. And this is only the beginning.

I wanted to remind something to everyone who has asked in regards to doing "Rituals" about the CoVid. We are not here to do rituals to "Stop" this or do anything like this, as this is a waste of time. We must not listen solely to our kind hearts now, especially so if this is to cost us what we would try to prevent by desiring to act. We are at war, and this is war. We need one another in the front, and all our collective effort has to go in taking down the enemy, and crushing them spiritually without mercy.

In the field of war, there are civilians, there are dogs, there are cats, helpless women, helpless elderly people. We care about them, which is why we are doing what we do to spiritually liberate the world. But if your comrades are getting shot and your enemy is exposed, you do not run to save random beings around the battlefield. If this is done, the thing one does is dilute their energies, break formation, and if we lose, then one will be shot in the back, so effectively, all the lives will be lost, warrior and civilian alike; then the enemy would take over, and everyone one wanted to protect would be gone.

We cannot allow this to happen. Humanity has been defenseless and without a spiritual people to defend it from merciless and spiteful attacks for a very long time. For that reason, we have to fight it all to the end.

Now, we have to spiritually be as organized as a major SWAT operation or a Special Forces operation. We KNOW where we are going, we have the PLAN, we know exactly why we go in, and we go in to save most people as possible, by defeating the enemy's disinformation, spreading the truth mercilessly, and spamming our RTR's which open up the gates of the New World that we are creating.

Many of you who meditate, have you noticed a "thinning" of the enemy in the air? One may be used in war, but when one has a day with the enemy weakened, they see the difference. A glimpse of beyond the veil, of beyond the dirt the enemy has raised - before the veil of dross of the enemy, this, we have experienced, when the enemy fails to uphold their wall of lies and spiritual jewtrix.

I observed something which reminded me of how this planet was once upon a time, before many people were praying for their own damnation and filling this world with nefarious energy. An energetic cleanliness which is easy to imagine, but ambrosia when one experiences it for real. I had a breath of fresh air for once - the astral areas were clear, so clear, that I believed I was somewhere else. A moment away from their energetic pollution, nefarious rituals, and disgusting filth that they heap on humanity.

That is despite the panic and the general energies around of panicked people, it was a moment of clarity without the energies of the enemy plaguing our world so tightly, a crack in the matrix, through which one could experience a pure Satanic light, a vision of how this Earth was once upon a time, without endless dross energy circulating, a world of beauty. It was revitalizing.

Our heart has to be iron, for when the enemy is defeated, all the people will be better off, more than ever could ever be helped or saved by any other means. We cannot save this world without taking the enemy down, and nobody will ever be saved without the enemy gone. The enemy is doing damage way faster than we can do repair or stop anything, but we have enough power to go after their spiritual foundation, and take them down. If we stop them, we will reverse things. The moments of clarity and purity will be upon us once again.

The enemy has attacked us for centuries without mercy, sometimes, due to their highest attacks, many people in the middle have went down the drain. We are not like them, we care. Their subversive and alien attacks have costed us a lot, and have been totally reckless. On the other hand, we want to win, but have a quality victory. The way to quality and meaningful victory is to go after THEM.

We want to win in order to put things in their place and not to cause injustices. Our fight is Noble. But allowing our enemy to catch a breath and organize a spiritual counterattack is nothing but a grave injustice to our Gods, to ourselves, to the people we want to help - to everyone and everything.

Now more than ever we are required to step in and go for the spiritually fatal strikes with the RTR. Also, the Race Awakening Ritual. People will see the lights through the cracks. We are entering into changes now and there is no going back. The Gods are with us, and so long we stand behind our own selves and loved ones, faith, hope and power, and great fortune will be on our side.

Remember also we have done the Rituals for Protection and our own. So maintain into this route with one's personal protection, and faith in the Gods, is important. Pray, or for accurate wording, telepathically communicate to them and let them know: You will be here for them, and they are here for us, "Guiding our own through unseen means". We will also guide the purpose we are given to what we have been commanded. They do their part, and we do our own.

Lastly, pay close attention, but without letting it to get to you: The enemy is making fatal mistakes from which they will never return, and they will reveal themselves so openly this time that all of the world will remain with an open mouth. Enough with the crimes and exploitation of the earth, of humanity, and of the wealth of the Nations. The enemy is in a knockdown. That is all there is to it.

The Eyes of the Gods are upon the Nations, and gazing with fire upon those in "Leadership", enemies and neutrals.

Their patience will run dry. Those in power have to comply before it is too late.

Yes, they must stop with the forced taxes, forced banking payments. Stop raping people financially during a disaster, stop putting people out and attacking them. Stop strangulating people out of their life and future. If they do not, the punishment of the Gods will befall them even harder than it was ordained for the crimes done until now.

The Eyes of the Gods are blazing on top of this world, ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!

Stay strong and stay safe Brothers and Sisters, may Satan and the Gods bless everyone.
