

Ariosophical Movement

ETERNAL_LIFE_666 wrote:

Is the book Theozoology by Lanz Von Leibenfelds worth taking the time to study?

Lanz Von Leibenfelds was himself a racial Jew, who attempted to hide his Jewishness (the typical method of infiltrators) and was also a member of the Catholic Cistercian order and a general fundamentalist Jewish-Christian nutcase who attempted to promote the Judeo-Christian ideology into the emerging very Pagan racialist philosophical movement. Lanz Von Leibenfelds was in all reality probably just an agent sent in by the Jesuit run Catholic Church. His organization the Ordo Novi Templi was shut down by the National Socialist state in the early 1940s during the war, which shows it was an infiltrator organization for the enemies of the National Socialist government. The obvious situation a total Jewish-Catholic fanatic would promote is his Judeo-Christian, anti-Pagan ideology under the title of the publication Ostara. The Pagan Goddess shows he was attempting to subvert the emerging Pagan movements in Austria and Germany. This is the typical method of subversion, to create a synthesis of the Christian with what you wish to subvert and then merge the Christian into the Pagan till the Christian is all that is left.

When Austria was brought into the German Reich by the popular vote of both Germans and Austrians in 1938, Hitler banned the works of Lanz Von Leibenfelds from being published and had all copies of Lanz Von Leibenfelds' paper Ostara removed from the public. Because Lanz Von Leibenfelds was a Jewish agent of the Catholic Church.

Lanz Von Leibenfelds also ran the Ariosophical Society behind the scenes, which was based on this Jewish subversion and he made sure right next to runes they taught everyone the Jewish Kabbalah. In 1937 Himmler issued an order that all the Kabbalah societies in Germany were to be shut down their works confiscated and their members investigated. This was due to them being associated with Judaic Free Masonic lodges, all which had already been banned. And because these organizations worked as intelligence networks for the enemy within such. And because Himmler and the National Socialist spiritual leaders knew what the Jewish Kabbalah is the occult book of the enemy and how the Jews put Gentiles under their control when they infiltrate Gentile occult communities.

Lanz Von Leibenfelds' doctrine is what is called Christian Identity today. How revealing that a racial Jew created and promoted this doctrine in Austria. The Jews always use Christianity to attempt to take control of their enemies.

Source:

The Fraternitas Saturni, Stephen E. Flowers, Ph.D.

August 18, 2019

Joy of Satan Forums Contributions