

2018 End of Year Address

Society is the physical manifestation of a thought form. There are many different ways to describe it in sociology, but it is a thought form. Changes in society are caused by incoming psychological energies, depending on who is tuned in and who is tuned out, and how this materializes into physicality.

People all want certain things collectively, even if they have different individual ideas about how to achieve these goals. When they realize the current system is a denial of this fundamental human reality, they will move to change it into something that can offer this. That is the simple fact behind the wheel of historical changes at the base. It is the fundamental will of life, and there are eternal and real spiritual laws behind this.

The current thought form of society, which is the materialization of the enemy's archetype into our world, is now undergoing its final disintegration on the mental plane and is collapsing in the physical world, as seen in current events. People are tuning out of the enemy archetype as its psychic field weakens and disappears. There is a flood of new ideas and movements coming in now.

This opens the door for a reformulation of society and a new leadership, whose job is to organize society in accordance with the well being of society.

Keep in mind that society is not your enemy. It is part of who you are, and so are your people in it. We are here to help people individually and collectively, as we are social beings and psychically, physically, and spiritually connected with our own People as part of a greater whole. Without society, and what makes society, none of us would survive, or have a future, or even exist.

Basically, don't get arrogant, which is cloaking most elitist attitudes. This attitude is based on a constant competition between you and your own People. Many people do this to strengthen their personal ego when they go against the mainstream, but fall into their own trap and just become an asshole sucked up psychically into their own asshole. It's okay to be frustrated with society, but don't fall into these traps over it. We are here to help and serve our own People, not scorn them and create a divide between us. When dealing with others, deal with each moment and each individual in life as you understand to do based on the situation. You are smart enough, and have your own genius within your psyche, that you can manage this on your own without a checklist.

We need to keep up the Final RTR and keep working to spread the message to the world online. This is the easier way to reach the most people the fastest.

People need to know about us to tune in fully to the new social reality we are working to create. We are tuning them out of the enemy, but we need to tune them into us.

December 16, 2018

Joy of Satan Forums Contributions