

Exposing the Cube Form of the Enemy

In original Hinduism, the cube structure is the center of the ancient Hindu Temple.

"The garbha Griha is a cube shaped room, without decoration...Only a qualified priest may enter this magical place to worship the image with flowers, water, lights, incense and offerings symbolizing the five elements. A narrow passage runs around the sanctuary, to be walked along clockwise." [1]

The entire Hindu Temple is built on either the Mercury square or Moon square mathematics to invoke these etheric qualities. The rest of the Temple is the sacred mount, which is built around and over the cube at the center. This is sacred geometry. The outer mount is built to generate energy and draw it down into the center of the cube. The cube is built in the shape of the earth element, which contains the energies of space, that of spirit, and thus all the elements. The priests' secret rituals in this enclosure are designed to connect into this energy and infuse it with the purpose of the rituals. This energy is then transmitted through the energetic grids, which is why ancient temples are built on lay lines. The infused energies also connect with the energy and souls of the worshippers in the temple, which adds to the power, which the structure of the Temple magnifies. The cube shape, the Prithivi Mandala, represents Earth in Hinduism, as the heavens around the earth are squared by the four fixed points of the zodiac, which represent the four elements and directions. This makes the cross of the Zodiac, which is the cube unfolded. The outer temple is designed to represent the entire wheel of the 12 constellations of the Zodiac and their degrees. The cube of Mecca was originally surrounded by a circle of 360 Pagan statues, representing the 360 degrees of the Zodiac wheel, with the cube being the central cross of the Zodiac. The sacred rites were performed inside the cube temple, as it was a Pagan building originally. The other aspect about the cube shape of the Hindu Temple is that it was designed to tie into the energies of the planets by the grid it was built on and the images of the yantras of the planets, which are placed within the cube sanctuary. This ties into the energy of the constellations, Earth, and the energy of the elements. The cube is the grounding and channeling point for this power in the energetic forms and rituals. The cube is also the center point for the worshippers in the Hindu Temple who direct their energies into this space, which further infuses the power channeled by the cube. The cube of the Kabbalah is shown the same way, tying into the 12 constellations, planets, and elements. The Hindu Temple is built on the plan of the Purusha, the cosmic man, which is shown as the Zodiac wheel. This was stolen by the Jews and turned into the Adam Kadmon later. The Hindu Temple's plan is witnessed in the Pyramid at Giza, at the sacred mount with the cube-shaped enclosures within the cavern where the sacred rituals were performed. The pyramids are aligned with Orion's belt and a major power point of the earth's etheric grid. The reason why Islamic worshippers pray five times a day facing Mecca is to direct their energies into the cube of Mecca. This infuses the energy of the enemy thoughtform, which they instilled within the cube. The thoughtform directs this energy into an enemy place, for them to draw down their "god" form and radiate it outwards across the etheric grid of the earth, drowning the world in horrific evil and negativity. They infuse this matrix with the death energy of countless ritual murders of humans and animals.

The Jews place the black box on their heads, the Tefillin, as stated in the Kabbalah to act as the antenna to draw down the energy of their thoughtform "god". They place one on their arm, as the left side is magnetic and shown as the Goddess Shakti in Hinduism, thus creating more flow of power. The Jews then "doven", which is rocking back and forth and side to side to open up an energy flow up the spine. The box on the head also opens this flow and opens the crown and sixth chakras. The sixth chakra is the command wheel of the mind. This all connects to make the energy and the mental intention of the energy stronger, and sends it out through the etheric grid around the earth. This is why the Jews want Israel, and especially the Temple Mount, so badly for themselves. That is the place at Jerusalem around the mount where the etheric grid of the earth is the strongest. That is why the Jews claim they are copulating with Shekinah, the energy of their god form, to create magically during the Tefillin ritual. This is also why the Jews are obsessed with wearing the Tefillin for protection. As an amulet, it connects them into their energy force and enhances their energetic body strongly. The Tefillin ritual turns the Jew into a cube, like the Priest in the Hindu cube sanctuary doing the sacred rituals to infuse and direct the energies being drawn down and channeled through the etheric grid from the souls of the religious followers tied into the energies. As children, Hindus are infused with the energy-form generated by this religion during initiation rituals where the samkara, the ritual energy mark, is imprinted into their souls. They are also given spiritual Hindu names that tie into this as well. The Jews go through identical initiations during their childhood, connecting their souls to their own god-form more strongly. This also includes being given a Hebrew name that connects into a specific verse of the Torah, which is the energy generator of their god form. The five books are the five elements, which fold into the cube. However, the Jewish god-form is based on the etheric grid of Saturn, which is why they raise the energies on Saturday: The day the influence of the planet Saturn is the strongest. The Jewish god-form is also, as the Rabbis state, installed based upon the etheric grid of the racial soul of the Jewish people. "The Jews and their God are one" is the basic and most important statement of faith and prayer in Judaism. As the Rabbis state, the Jews are the manifestation of their god in the material world because their god-form is installed and generated on the etheric blueprint of their own racial soul. Christians are also tied into the god-form of the Jews. During the Christian baptism ritual of Christening, water is energetically infused by the Christian Priest to connect into this matrix and is then placed over the third eye in the shape of the cross. This is the energy point that rules the mind of the child, and the cross is the unfolded cube of Saturn in the geometric form of the blueprint of this matrix to tie the soul into this. In addition, they place a mark along the heart chakra, which ties the power into this energetic point to drain power out of the soul into the god-form. The heart chakra is the point where the energies meet going up and down the chakras. The priest also touches the ears and mouth while reciting incantations that invoke making people deaf and dumb, thus cutting them off from higher awareness. The mouth and ears connect into important nadis, which are energy pathways in the consciousness. This is all done while series of incantations are recited, tying people into the Jewish spell of the Torah. This infuses the samkaras, or energetic imprints, into the soul of the Gentile, making them a conduit for the enemy matrix of energy to connect into and act through to suck energy from the person. This makes the Gentile a slave and Golem to the Jewish god-form, thus farming the Goyim for Zion.
