

Exposing the Jewish God, Part 2: YHVH and How it is Used

The Jew himself is god in Judaism, if one studies the true core and meaning of Judaism, which is Kabbalah. The Rabbis state that the Torah is just the exoteric Kabbalah and the covering of the Kabbalah, and that Kabbalah is the true meaning of Judaism. In Judaism, "god" is shown as the tree of life, which has three parts. The outer two pillars represent the male and female sides of the body and the middle pillar is the spine. The male and female nadis on the male and female sides of the body connect at the center. They also represent the sun and moon channels, the Ida and pingala, with the sushumna the middle.

Of the ten worlds, seven of them relate to the planetary squares, which relate to the seven chakras. The other three planets relate to the pineal gland and the left and right hemispheres of the brain and their energy centers, and how to connect the chakras' systems in the head.

In Kabbalah, it is shown how the name YHVH (the Jewish god) is used and what it means, thus proving what this "god" really represents:

The Yah letter is Kether and Hokhma

The Heh is Binah

The Vav is Gevurah, Tiferet, Chesed, Netsach, Hod, Yesod.

The second Heh is Malkhut

Note that Vav is also given to Daath, which is a world and is counted.

What this means is that the letters mentioned are simply vibrated into the associated energy centers in the head and spine in a pattern to activate them and connect them. They can also have extra and different vowels added to them as well as part of this.

In Kabbalah, the name Kether is also shown to be code within for Ain Sopf. The letter Ain in Hebrew means "eye" and is stolen from the Hindu mantra of Aim, the bija mantra for the "all-seeing eye". This is because the crown connects to the pineal gland. Ain Sopf is the highest "god" of Kabbalah, which is just called "a force" and nothing else. Ain Sopf is just a name of the crown chakra.

The "god" of the Bible is nothing more than individual Jews and the alien soul they possess. The name of "god" YHVH and the symbol of "god" the World Tree is just the map of the Jewish soul and how they empower it. Nothing else. YHVH is the name of the individual Jew.

Source:

The Universal Meaning of the Kabbalah, Leo Schaya

June 14, 2018

Joy of Satan Forums Contributions