

About Weather, Recent Flooding and Environmental Disasters in Europe and Worldwide

For those who have been following the News or live in Germany or Europe, Poland or related territories, you might have been encountering some really negative weather events in these areas. These are most unusual, and people haven't seen things like these for decades.

While climatic change [not as we are advertised] is real and is occurring, a lot of this has to do with ramifications of man-made technologies. In regards to global warming and so on, I asked Azazel years ago, and the answer was that our lifespan is short and therefore we mistake many things of going into directions we don't understand.

After doing more reading on the subject, I found in some archives all sorts of the same useless claims that we will "Melt all the ice in 20 years!" and so on, or how we were going to "enter an ice age pretty soon". This was on Times Magazine if I recall correctly. If you look for this online, you will find it. Point being, people have been doing this for a while now.

Azazel in regards to this told me that we humans are really affected by the input of information we get through our limited lifespan, and that weather phenomena are difficult to "pinpoint" since they are "active", especially in our recent past.

This makes this whole thing even more confusing for us. It is from now onward that we are getting any solid databases about how these can go, and predictions with these can be limited. Add a little fearmongering and grey based agenda, and you will know how bad this can go.

He told me that pollution is a far bigger blight than "Global warming", and that "Humans can only do that much" in regards to "Global warming" or any of this, but that "We can destroy our living environment in full" if we aren't careful. But not the "Earth" herself at our current level of development.

Astarte, as stated before, really loves our planet, and also the living life on it. They take this all very seriously. They have also told me they have been "actively engaged" with world leaders, in the sense of directing many, but the enemy and rampant human stupidity is also involved in this.

We are also going through a major change in general, and this will also reflect on the weather, except of the man-made reactions that are caused.

Other things showed, I could not comprehend presently, but he said that every so thousands of years, the climate does indeed "change", and mentioned how this was documented before. I never knew this was the case in a recorded fashion in such a way, but after one read, you would be surprised to find that at one point, we recognized only 3 seasons, not 4.

If we go even further back, the Golden Age is also alluded of being a Golden Age in regards to weather and climate, a very balanced and healthy climate with minimal catastrophes was the case for the Earth. But this also has spiritual allegory in it, yet, it appears to be true and real.

This ties into the changes of the ancients and the calendars. The Earth herself goes through cycles and this can cause events that may seem unbelievable, to the point civilizations are wiped to the ground.

Except of this, there is now human made manipulation that is backfiring on the environment. Governments will not accept this and may hardly admit this, but many are using rampant weather manipulation, without understanding the long-term effects on the technology. One such government is China, who uses this liberally and has admitted to doing so.

Difference between them and the West, is that they have no reason to hide anything as they are Communists and therefore any abuse will not allow anyone to say anything. Much of this is the reason China is actively creating ruin.

In regards to HAARP and other technologies, these appear to be old and have more than likely been replaced with possibly more effective and "dangerous" technologies. At the same rate, most billionaires are now really focused on space, which is showing that they might know a few things about where all of this is going to result.

While this doesn't pose a clear existential threat yet, the backfiring amount seems to "Range". If Governments make this their next "Hobby" to abuse, as they usually do, it's for sure the negatives of the use may override any "positives". Governments are renown for doing that shit.

Maybe they have more information about this? One can only assume.

Lastly, a lot of this, both being unrelated to things humanity does to a major extent, and natural, is used to promote the obvious globo-homo agenda of the jews and the enemy. They pretend they have no clue on what is going on, to enforce communism, depriving people of meat and so on, and other numerous agendas already illustrated.

Even stupider, are the Xians and Muslims, who take every natural event as an "act of God" to "punish them" for eating pork or something. Needless to say, except of retarded, these people are dangerously superstitious. Nature does nothing to explicitly harm people. This nonsense was created out of the mouths of illiterate bandit Rabbis that were filled with hate, and wanted to make Gentiles feel bad for just existing.

Given these people are psychos, they might as well be using technology now, and calling it the "Judgement of God". As about the floods, the EU Media kept repeating constantly the numbers of the jews, and "Biblical" consistently. Those who read our forums, you understand why. Terror and fear energy. The same goes for the terror about Co-Vid which has been never ending.

UAE triggers heavy artificial rainfall with new technology in the midst of a heat wave

Heavy rains have fallen on July 14 and 15 in several regions of the United Arab Emirates (UAE), such as Abu Dhabi, Dubai and Sharjah, amid a heat wave with temperatures touching 50 degrees Celsius. The UAE National Meteorological Center explained that cloud seeding operations were carried out to increase rainfall.

The agency issued weather warnings for the east of the country due to the possibility of convective cloud formations associated with more rainfall and winds with speeds of 40 km/h causing dust and sand drifts.

Convective clouds form due to high land surface temperatures, which cause warm, moist air to rise through the surrounding cooler air in the atmosphere.

In recent years, UAE authorities are actively developing technologies to induce rainfall in its arid territory. Thus, in spring, the country tested drones that can induce rain by applying electrical discharges to clouds without the use of chemical compounds.
