Our first post and conversation on the subject from around a week ago:
Paris And The French Situation

From all the news and everything else related in regards to the events in France, the situation is extremely dire. There are many deaths, and around 2,000 people imprisoned as of current. The enemy system has simply lost the ball in France.

The French Gov. has turned, given the jewish control, against the French people. There are kosher agreements attempted to be made, but people aren't stopping. We are probably experiencing the first major revolt of this magnitude in decades. This isn't going to stop either, as the people out there, are out there, because the system is flawed beyond fixing.

The system itself over there is breaking down. One has went to Paris to see 1 French person every 100 miles and you will understand why, the systematic jewish plan for extinction of the people is a very fact that is manifesting directly into the life of the French.

This is not about fuel prices, but about a general life that is only centered around destroying the native French, feeding parasites for "Compassion", and creating the ruin of a great people. People are picking up on this reality, and they are extremely angry.

Even if not directly, or from a racial standpoint, the situation is, the strangulation to bring this racial extinction about is in itself a burden the people simply cannot lift, and a yoke they cannot have.

The majority of people in France that are revolting are not people who are middle, lower, even few backers of higher class and business owners, which many people like in generally to present as some sort of magnates, due to stupidity. All of these people are having tremendous problems. They are essentially just about everyone.

From all the information also, the striking majority is white people. From all the news and first person reports, even the police is one inch from turning against the Government. After all, the policemen, are people too, and they are also, like other citizens, slaves of the jews. This is why during the revolts you have had people from hospitals and firefighters actually siding with the protesters, and not the gov.

This phenomenon is going to reverberate to all of Europe, sooner than later. People are greatly fed up, and the rising of information in regards to jews, is ruining them. At this pace more and more people will join the revolution movement, and whatever the situation or circumstance, there is no going back now. These social phenomena have no going back.

The jews were hoping initially all of the infestation and racial bastardization would happen in a climate of 'good economy' and that as a result, people wouldn't grow mad over the consensus enforced to materialize this higher Kalergi Plan in action. But you just cannot have this going without something, somewhere, snapping. They have been censoring all their failures from the news, but the manifestation of these in everyday life, and in the fact you need to walk three neighborhoods in France to find a French person, is on its own, enough.

What the enemy will essentially try to do, in classical actions they always do, they plant infiltrators on these movements that destroy them, early on, when they are grassroots, with long-term missions, to destroy and corrupt them little by little. This however cannot happen to this French movement as essentially, it has no defined organization or leadership, and it doesn't reflect class or anything else like that either. It is just the common voice of a suffering people who cannot take the jewish system of life anymore and see their own impending doom.

A situation with the migrants is that they always side with the government, in all of abuse, out of fear of being expulsed, and since they do not have rights ex sanguinis citizens do, they can always be extorted by the native government on the fear of "Rising of Evil Nazis That Will Kick You Out" to vote, act, and behave, exactly as you see fit. Trump's election proved all these fears are Utopic, but this Pavlovian fear is instilled on foreign people and this is something the jews do in order to rally them around. Trump didn't kill or remove anyone even if he is a "Nationalist".

This is another reason the jews are filling Europe with all the random people of the world, and low wage serfs. This low wage serfdom that is supported by cheap migrant labor (most of the time illegal and untaxable) is bound at some point to crash the rights of other, working class people, and the economy itself, since the incessant social policy of welfare and free gurbs, destroys the economy by milking other generative people.

People like these migrants are in need, and always useful slaves to the jewish government, and additionally, if the system doesn't crash, you can steal a native country by elections, by having a "Socialist" party that is commie red, and automatically recruits these cheap soldiers or bases situations on "Class", rather than race or ex sanguinis living and citizenship of the people of a country. The types of political kosher trickology that Hitler obliterated, that is. Hitler writes in his writings that even in his time, in the region of Ruhr in Germany, the jews have been bringing an endless supply of Black people, which were mining and working there as the 'new working class', in order to force mixing and work stealing of the natives. "The New Citizens of the Ruhr".

People were shocked as this was the 1920's but the same thing is happening all over today, and repeating. The jews do the tried and true methods of mixing to take down civilizations. And this whole Kalergi Plan is one of these methods.

The jewish tricks here are nothing new. If shit hits the fan and you have to create a war machine state against the native people of a country, you can also have these foreign guys as cheap assassins, cheap anti-revolutionary groups (the anti-fa is most of the time compromised of entitled bratty kikes, and migrant troops), and anything else you really need, to support the jewish state, directly and in fear of being put out of it. You can also have a cheap underworld which is the situation in Paris, where crime has rose exponentially to post-war levels, but this was also kept beneath the blanket for too long.

This is why many other European countries are also speeding up the process to indict all these foreigners in the police force, in the military, and in all works of the public office. The military, ideally, is the safeguard of the freedoms of the people - ironically, and also, the only force that can restore order if let's say Macaroni turns into one of the likes of the jew Herod. This makes the state composed of foreigners, and not natives, creating the case of revolution by 'elections' literally impossible. Even usurping the state back to the people with arms becomes impossible. Paris in particular is a manifestation of all of the above, in fast escalating motion.

And of course, the experiment of the "Great Replacement" by these bright jews of Europe, is collapsing, and causing all these aforementioned things to bleed over in the life of people. They were hoping to make it work from the backdoor but it appears it didn't go as well as expected. So France is now undergoing a revolution.

As such, people stopped giving a fuck about fake ass elections and all the rest of the jokes, and they just took the streets in a decentralized manner, to rally for their rights, directly, the old fashioned way. And in this situation the solving of the above is not systemic, as the system is essentially wired to run on chaos and the perilous situation which extinct the native populace.

Given the pace of things are going, we might as well expect the same in England or elsewhere hopefully.

As for France, they can kill people and fill prisons (2,000 is a hell of a lot of people) but the situation is not going to go back. Macaroni tried to bribe the populace with cheap measures and the next day, people were again out on the street.

Keep up the RTR's to create a good escalation out of this. The jews are going to be exposed and ripped out.
