

Getting Back Our Pagan Notions From Corrupted Christians: To "Repent"

Everything the enemy religions talk about, is stolen from us and from Ancient Pagan cultures. A common theft is the term of "Repenting".

You see so many millions worldwide are obsessed over Christianity and Islam. They are obsessed. They have turned to zealots over lies, because at some place in their mind, they are very much confused.

I am therefore going to clarify certain things that have people obsessed, because this jewish theft of Ancient Pagan cultures has made a copycat of the Truth that is so corrupted that it produces the opposite results and is the source of all evil in our world as a result.

Many people, confused by the jewish copycat and its claims, are stuck onto it, because certain elements reflect universal Truths that are of ancestral origin to us all. Since these reside in our memory, many have a difficult time breaking away from this.

These posts are for those who want to escape the torment of a falsely programmed mind and are done in order to deprogram people and to show them, that everything we say is logical and correct, and that one must not worship the jews simply because they stole our own culture, but rather, people must simply return to our own culture.

For the enemy, the term "Repent", this means nothing. It's all about succumbing to jews and it has nothing else of a content to it. But the message of "Repenting" is actually a very strong message that goes a long way back in Ancient Pagan culture.

In Ancient Pagan cultures, it's understood we are all born ignorant. When we are ignorant on so many things in life, and when it's so easy to become confused that one knows everything, and to commit mistakes, to "repent" is a life saving skill.

Oftentimes, we will commit mistakes towards others and ourselves. It's necessary to be able to communicate with others, go over them, converse maturely, and see where mistakes are. These "mistakes" are beyond feelings, but it has to do with logic and higher understanding.

The key "message" inside the word "Repent" comes from the Ancient Greek term "Metanoia". This means "To change the direction of your mind" or to "transform your mind". In English, we commonly say, "change your line of thought". This is basically a very accurate translation of the real meaning of this spiritual term, which was later stolen and corrupted by the enemy.

Clearly, this has nothing to do with changing your mind about "sins" or just saying "sorry" to jews, crying on the legs of a pastor because of wrong guilt, to go and do all the same things again after you cried, but this has a far deeper meaning.

The word for "Repentance" is the word for literal fundamental change. As one can see, Christianity does not give anyone a way out of misery, affliction and stupidity, and feeds on this to grow itself. You cannot change in the enemy religions, because they don't emphasize changing at all.

Most people become indefinitely worse when they practice this corrupted enemy program, and lose their way in life constantly, diving deeper and deeper into misery and affliction.

Therefore, one should understand, that "Repenting" is actually possible to be done only in Spiritual Satanism in its true form. And this is very simple and it does not have to do with fake invented "sins" or wallowing in self hate.

Behind numerous stolen codes from the enemy religions, the "Repentance" is about changing one's outlook on life. It is about changing the direction where you are going, from falling, to rising.

For example, if you are obsessed with always thinking negatively, to "repent" out of this situation is to start thinking in a more balanced manner. If you have been harmed and you are toxic to others, you "repent" through "praying to God" [another desecration, this means, to meditate on yourself to advance spiritually towards the Godhead].

If you are so used to being toxic and negative to others, or doing actions of self harm, to "repent" means merely to change this direction by spiritual effort.

In this case, you are turning your mind and soul around. After one is in the habit of correcting these errors, cleaning the soul, and ascending to higher levels of understanding [Turning the mind around...] then one receives the "light of God", which is effectively the soul vibrancy and a higher level of being.

The above, is not achievable by being a Christian or a Muslim, because these religions block you of the Truth and lie to you that this will be achieved merely by "confession" or by saying a few prayers. That is false.

These methods do not change the mind fundamentally, nor clean the soul, and therefore, one remains negative and evil in their life the more they remain in these programs. You truly need to meditate to achieve this, and Satan and our Gods emphasize this for tens and tens of centuries.

Now, to turn around the "Mind" as the word implies, also has another hidden meaning. The mind has two aspects that we commonly know, the logical and the emotional. The logical aspect can be turned around by changing your thoughts [i.e., conscious self thinking, positive affirmation, managing your thoughts] but the other emotional part is left unattended by the lies the enemy says, and in many people, goes out of control.

A gambler for example, does not suddenly change his mind because he simply said he will change his mind, because in the mind, there is a fundamental underlying subconscious nature moving someone to certain acts. This is where hypnosis and deep meditation to purify the chakras and the soul is required.

The enemy fake programs hide this, and confuse people that simply by saying "sorry" to "god", that this crap "forgives" you, and that you are free to go. To go and do all the same mistakes all over again...In fact, they are setting humanity up to do exactly this, because they lie that this is achievable only by a fake prayer, to a fake "god", and only some half baked words to a pastor.

The results of this: Mistakes are repeated again and again, and false guilt starts to plague the mind, to where one becomes self hateful and a hater of other people, a situation that later turns into brutal abuse or self destruction of mind and spirit.

But as Spiritual Satanism teaches you truly, and I have taught you truly and verily, you will achieve this only with meditation as described in the two paragraphs above and all my work too. How you fix the "Emotional" mind, is by habitualizing it towards positive decisions, over a long period of time. The mind helps it and sends it in order.

An example: You keep having negative thoughts about doing an action that is self harmful. At first, you will bring the mind in control by exercising conscious control. Positive thoughts, self hypnosis etc. Then, as we all know, you do a working to remove the deeper ingrained issue. The more long-term the working, the success is going to be for sure.

Also, as you do the working, you are building your willpower and resilience. Go out there and try to find people that maintain a correct course of action for 40 or 80, or 120 days, and you won't find many. Workings also teach you discipline. Discipline is necessary if you want to be free.

Lastly, actual "repenting" also has to do with restarting meditation if one has stopped. Life can get in the way, the same goes for doubts or other problems. The less one meditates and applies Satanic knowledge, negativity can start piling up, leading to wrong decisions and foul outcomes in life.

One "repents" when they start walking on the path again, not because of outwardly punishment by the "Gods", but because one has abandoned their very own soul.
