

On the Vaccination Subject: Give an Inch, They Take a Mile

Post by HP. Hoodedcobra666

Thu Mar 11, 2021 1:07 am

The enemy is notorious for stealing the freedoms of human beings and then selling these to them at 6,000,000 percent interest.

They steal your right to spirituality and meditation. Then they tell you, even if these are rights to humans, that you need to sell your soul to Jesus Christ or Mohammed and so on. You never did have to believe in these things, neither did any of our Ancestors. That's the brainwashing of an original sin that never existed.

The same recipe is now done with the global measures. If the Co-Vid was so dangerously deadly, one wouldn't need to do a freedom trade-off in order to get vaccinated. One would reason out this was the better case. But since nothing is consistent in this whole story, they tell people, you know what - your freedoms will be removed, so you better do this.

Or you will be jobless, an infected, second-class citizen, unable to meet your elders or your family, etc. etc.

The above is psychological warfare where all logic, facts, and reality is being pushed to shut down. This is blackmail so that people get to make a choice.

The choice is not the "Vaccine", but whether or not one will cave into psychological warfare or not. This is their primary objective. They couldn't give a shit less about anyone's health, or their future.

People here have argued as to whether or not to be pro or against the vaccine. That is not the question. Some are trying to argue it's scientifically "OK", and some argue the other end. But even if this was alright and healthy, or terrible, the end result is another one.

The question mainly is this: Isn't this agenda clearly used as a blackmail agenda of the enemy, with which they found an excuse to bind people and then set them free over an exchange? Yes.

Therefore, the question on pro or against the vaccine is not the real question. An exchange of freedoms is taking place here. Even if the vaccine was totally normal, healthy, and decent, how this is done is totally immoral and against freedom of choice.

People are being psychologically barraged into this decision, forced by force of work, and through an array of other sources. This game has to end with them giving up freedoms, in exchange for something the enemy wants done.

The real question is do people have to do whatever the enemy says over anything? And don't we know it's dysfunctional to give them an inch, because they take a mile?

First, they tell you to vaccinate because you won't be able to travel. If that works, they will tell people that they have to do another vaccination over another strain if they want to meet the elderly members of their family again.

Then they'll tell people you won't see your kids ever again if you don't take this shot, because you're a danger to them and you're an evil parent that doesn't listen to Dr. Fauci.

Next they may tell people you'll be heading into a torture chamber because you are a danger to everyone else for not taking a vaccine to the 1000th strain of the Co-Vid.

Eventually, anything they will want to do to anyone, they will do it. The enemy isn't trying to normalize health or the vaccine, even if this was scientifically sound. They are trying to normalize COMPLIANCE by psychological force and bending all laws, constitutions, and limitations of the normalcy of people's minds.

All of this is a slippery slope of restraints and freedom violations.

All the enemy is doing right now is testing globally if they can take an inch of the world's freedoms. The enemy is like a termite. They eat a few inches on freedoms, then next thing you know, all your furniture is missing. They are testing numerous things.

Let us say that hypothetically one is so afraid of Co-Vid because they are so old. Alright. Even at this rate, having the vaccine over this blackmail situation, is giving the enemy power.

You might want to wait until freedom has won or persisted, and then go have your choice as a FREE MAN OR WOMAN, and not as a slave that has been psychologically raped and barraged to have this choice out of fear of FREEDOM RESTRICTIONS.

Do not trade your freedoms in thieving trades caused by the enemy. Humans are supposed to be free, not slaves.

The argument of "Freedoms" which are not really freedoms but only conveniences, is the slippery slope of death of freedoms. You already were a free woman or man to travel, to see your own family, to care for your own children BEFORE, and you are NOW.

They are just fucking around with people trying to get them to trade these rights to them now, by accepting these slavers as the source of these decisions. "Yes master you decide and I have to take this vaccine if I want to ever see my family again".

The answer to this is: THEY CANNOT DO FUCKING SHIT TO YOU. Look at how even Biden wrote a "Mask Mandate", and most states literally are scoffing him off. It's through general compliance that these things become laws, and not because of the power of legislation in many cases. These are bogus laws and nothing else.

When and how they want to gain power over these kinds of things, is by forcing people into compliance with kosher and low-end laws, psychological warfare, and information barrage, until the minds of people give in and they finally accept them as a source of power, higher than let's say, the Constitution.

They have no legal, moral or authoritative power to take this freedom away from you. You are STILL FREE, even if they have imposed kosher limitations, threats and fines. They know it also, if a man happens to find themselves in a court over this, nothing will hold. For now.

But if many people unanimously fall into this trap, then it's game over, because power will be transferred to them despite of what any higher laws, Constitutions, Human Rights charters, or European Union laws even say. They are trying to deceive and con people into giving out their own freedoms.

Yes, it may take some restrictions with fights and problems with conveniences if people want to maintain their freedoms. But this is because freedom is power and it matters, while convenience is not power.

Your Freedoms have been won, have been inked, and they are present in the Constitutions, Human Rights, and other things people died for to secure freedom for future generations. Do NOT make their sacrifices in vain. Do not listen to the enemy's lies that if you cave in you'll be free.

It's if you DO NOT COMPLY, that you stand a chance. The moment that people have complied with such threats and coercive measures, this is the time when freedom has been thrown to burn in fire.

Do not let them do it.

-High Priest Hooded Cobra 666