

On Criminality

HP Hooded Cobra 666

November 27, 2018

If one pays close attention, especially to the 'culture' exported by the Jews ruling the USA, they just keep instructing young people to become criminals, lead a criminal lifestyle, and all these people are glamorized. This is nothing else other than jews blessing their own tribe as the race of many of the 'top guys' in criminality, as always by coincidence, is just jews.

The glamorization of crime is also very necessary so that drug cartels and many other inferiors on the planet do have an advertising and marketing network. Migos is not sitting there telling you how good drugs are, for no reason. They are promoting and advertising for those that probably pay him, in the form of 'art', and yes, of course, some of their songs have vibes, but this topic is not about 'art'. These songs don't end up in Ellen Degenerate Kikess in TV by coincidence either. In other words, all these 'rap videos' and cocaine ads are not about simply promoting a lifestyle, but are actual advertising by those in power who want to advertise this lifestyle to the masses. And to naive children as well.

This is done on purpose so that these rotten people always have a steady supply of followers and young ones deceived in order to run their agendas. As with regular advertising, this works on some people, and on some, it does not. But it's proven this type of thing actually affects people whether they like it or not, on a subconscious level.

The Social Marxist dialectic and many other people, foolishly claim that criminality is caused by poverty and many other things. If this is the case, why in Eastern Europe and in many other territories where White people are hungry in the literal sense, do they not commit all this endless criminality? Because they are homogenous, and because they innately are not criminal elements. And this is a reality proved by its own reality.

The argument of "hunger is criminality" as a sole causative reason for criminality self collapses. Places like Serbia are highly impoverished and crime rates are very low. Why isn't it like the US? Simply because of different demographics. If hunger was the case there wouldn't exist all these Mafias, simply because a little heist could solve their hunger problem for a month or a few weeks, based on mathematics. But this is not the case.

The Social Marxist observation that people do crime just because they are hungry is a lie. Others unfortunately in leftism and some socialists who want to provide social help, or who do analyze these situations, have also absorbed the above lie and they believe that providing help and provision for the vague category of the poor people, will just also solve crime. But many people in the category of the poor are also honorable people who do not want free gibbs to compensate for this situation, they just want better job opportunities.

Nor does being poor mean you will become a mafia member or a criminal, either. It's actually quite different in reality. Most of the gangs are not formed because they want to make a farm and escape hunger, but because they want to take it way further, by the simple use of violence against productive elements in society. The argument of the 'good boi jus poor boi' just collapses on its own head. You can have a normal job and survive if you discipline yourself. But guess what, some people don't want to do this.

Leftist Academia was conducting research on Spain about the legalization of drugs and how it helped an X city in Spain. They literally blessed and eulogized the legalization of drugs. Later on Canada decided to go for the legalization of weed, this happened recently. Of course, Canadians believed this would curb the illegal trade, happy them. They are too White to understand how these situations of 'social help' will turn out in the long run, and are too hopeful. So what happened out of this legalization? Nothing changed. The people still use drugs, the illegal drugs still pour in Canada. The people do not like the 'regulated' aspect of Weed, and do not consider it 'effective' or to their liking. So now the problem is doubling. On one hand, weed is becoming streamlined, and on the other hand, those in the 'know' in regards to weed, just look for different ways for getting 'weed' that is rendered illegal. Just wait 5-6 years and you will see the problem will only have doubled. This is already the case, nothing has changed.

But I will tell you what truly happened because of this. I was receiving updates from a Capitalist Con online informing site, and I was checking out how the matter with weed was proceeding. 3 months prior to legalization, the firm advised to 'invest' in a few upcoming 'legal' weed startups. Some of which grew to 900 or upwards to 3800% in power and capital due to legalization. I do not recall but I think in one case the rising of the stock value of some of these literally soared to 7100-7200%, which is literally batshit insane.

So putting one and one together what happened. Some people wanted to make money. So what they did was legalize drugs in Canada, opened startups, and became super rich in the interval of a few months, which changed nothing for the better for Canada, but actually made the situation which was already bad, worse. Congrats guys, you got jewed again. Smoke your puffy puff and think the Government cares for you, and all your millions of now-to-be-fried brain cells.

The governments of the world care only about one thing: Maintaining their power. Everything that weakens people is welcome to them, simply because strong people threaten those in authority with replacement. The more fried and beaten down the populace, the better. Welcome to the Jewish Era of politics, where Hitler said "Let's make people the strongest and the healthiest in the world" is a threatening statement. While poisoning your own people with drugs is welcomed with open arms.

Returning to the topic of criminality...

The majority of criminals do not have the mentality of the hungry guys who just look for bread, they could solve this by having any other job and working for their bread somehow by serving the needs of others. Most of these people are just greedy. The caravans that will bring the mafias in the USA aren't here because they want a loaf of bread, they are going there because they want rolex and the rolly's.

The west has understood this simple reality such as in the UK where London is only composed of 'foreigners' who are there to 'work', and where percentages of being gutted in the middle of the street for a few bucks is reaching 30% in many areas. The fact you bring people to earn their bread through honest work, doesn't mean they will want to do it. Actually, they have all reasons to NOT want to do it. They want nothing to do with you, or your culture either.

All criminals also report that they really like the criminal lifestyle simply because you gain things quickly, and for free, and you have to do literally nothing in order to gain, just do heists and shit. In other words, the issue is psychological such as gambling, and they enjoy what they do. This is why most criminals do not just do petty crimes all their life but later they join criminal conglomerates in order to further build up towards their goals. Their 'hunger' problem is solved quite easily, but this is not the initial problem. Many just enjoy criminality.

Another thing in regards to criminality is people hate these people way too much, the "Criminals" (Or rather, the convicted ones) while they turn a blind eye to the criminals that run countries and literally rule this world. Let me tell you at least half of these people behind bars they have hardly done any major crime compared to politicians who engage in state treason, or are part of Pizza gate and other similar pedo and crime rings, or opening borders to exterminate their own living populace, or give intel to Israel based on state secrets.

The only difference between the two is that the politicians and other rotten individuals are rarely caught as they are beyond the scope of the law. So someone being branded as a criminal and going behind bars is not always a straight indicator of their dishonesty or 'proven evil'. There are people who got locked behind bars because of true issues like hunger, and most of the time, it's these people who will pay the bills. A strong percentage of the prison population is people who have done minor crimes. Most of the criminals that are dangerous, are in reality operating freely and out there.

Because either they cannot catch them, or they pretend they cannot catch them. So in essence we have the same issue many philosophers like Nietzsche and others debated about in the 18th and 19th centuries, people who just were behind bars for doing petty crimes, being political dissidents, and other sorts of things, which do not compare in any way with true criminals, who are walking around and operating about freely.

The law has collapsed under the rules of its own Talmudic hatred and irrationality. In Muslim countries, one can get their hand cut off for stealing an apple, but one is not punished, but PRAISED for doing Jihad. One can be thrown off a roof for being gay, but one can daily beat their wife to death and be praised for it. All "Legal".

While the jews pretend they don't see all the narcos going through all the borders in the US. Oh my 50 tons of Cocaine, we literally missed this through the border goyim... Now let's imprison this guy without a hearing because he stole an apple from a store to eat. This is the mentality of the jewish system.

Lastly, kids pay close attention here. You see these three cases, XXXtentacion, he died at 21. Drug user, hate-mongering, and the related. Mac Miller, a jewish promoter of the 'drug culture', got high on his own supply and died like a cockroach, even though he was 'rich' from promoting social corrosion, and happily did do his racial mission of making his race more influential on the goyim through the use of drugs. 6ix9ine a latino guy who was going all out in songs on how he will kill people, and that he was the dope king of New York, is now facing a lifetime in prison at around 20 years old. "King of New York".

Lil Peep who actually made some decent tracks also promoted the druggie lifestyle and dope, but not from the criminal side, but the user side and abusive side. Equally deadly. He died too due to overdose as well. He died in his 20s only to have a full lifetime of constant depression before this. In other words, the road to criminality is paved with endless corpses that fill the streets, and the jews still insist on the Gentiles and especially children that this lifestyle is true, viable, and also leads to 'riches' or even happiness. All the outcomes from this just prove the contrary, and this is being reaffirmed every day.

No kids, it leads only to death, incarceration, social decay like never before, and permanent depression. Do not get fooled by lies on your TV.

Those who engage in these behaviors should change their ways rapidly, the Gods frown upon these social destroyers, and sooner or later, there will be punishment. People are crying on the death of Lil Peep or Mac Miller, but as to how many people these guys have killed with their promotion of drugs, nobody will ever know in accuracy. As for the 'lifestyle' aspect of it like movies and such, well, this is called 'art and entertainment' and nobody can blame this with accuracy at this point, so it cannot be blamed.

Also as a final note, see in TV (We know (((Who))) runs all of this) people are constantly exposed to criminality How To's. Many of these shows are literally giving instructions to people and giving them things to do. People have learned to enjoy criminality by programming as some sort of entertaining thing.

Criminality and the perversion of laws are instructed in the bible as a form of conquering and taking over the goyim. Just check all the stories of Stan Lee and you will see what the jew envisions, civilizations bathed in criminality, where jews can play the 'hero' by being grey characters. A never-ending world of suffering just so that jews can be satisfied with it.

The real question is how much of this is happening in Israel? Because last time I checked the Rabbinate commanded politicians to not take 'criminal tribesmen' in Israel, to avoid all of the above. I guess, Stan Lee Crime Cities for the Goyim, and Idyllic homogenous, low-crime civilizations for the jews.

This is the story of the promotion of "Criminality".

© Joy of Satan Ministries

www.joyofsatan.org