

The Pandemic Calamity and the Enemy's Behavior

It's important for people to understand that with the enemy in power, if calamities befall humanity, humans will always be put last. These calamities are astrological, can happen due to human misfortune, or errors. They are unavoidable. But our decisions as a species revolve around how we deal with these tragedies.

This current tragedy that many people have had to confront and understand through actually living through it. For many these situations and measures are encountered as a first in their lives. It's a good opportunity for people to now wake up.

Delayed help, no help at all, no care about anything but promoting corrosive and human controlling agendas - these are things that keep occurring during every historic tragedy. Instead of a problem getting solved, the enemy focuses instead on promoting their inferior agenda.

The enemy, instead of treating these as something that needs to be solved, instead wastes all human time, resources, tax money, and manpower, even the spiritual energy of terror that encompasses people, mining them life a resource, in essentially furthering their own individual agenda. This stops there. There is no other aim. Nothing else.

Therefore it's also beyond the enemy of looking back at any mistake, since, they are not interested in improving anything. For this particular reason, nobody will look back, at least in the present, and admit if we went overboard in the West, if we crushed freedoms, or even if this whole situation was even necessary.

Instead, the enemy always scoffs it all, they insist on doing what they have planned. We know why they behave in this manner which may seem erratic to normal people, who don't understand the full picture here.

The scientific community during the Co-Vid, was hardly allowed to work. Immediately, the politics, press, and bribes for the China-ization of the West flew into it, disallowing any and all work to take place.

Before we had a clear view about anything from the virology-based perspective, those in power such as the Rockfellers and Billy Gates, decided and advocated specific measures. One of these measures was an experimental one, which was the lockdown approach.

Pathetic is also the situation of not only fearmongering, but a huge display of the lack of trust between the enemy and their leadership with the people themselves. The enemy is not a natural leader to this world and this is known to everyone who has studied them.

People are instinctively and logically understanding they are being fooled, and they hate them. The relation is not one of working with the leaders, but rather, a situation of hate and having to endure them. This went even further now, to where we can no longer even remotely think against them, lest we are considered through criminals.

The "Narrative" of everything that happens is like Christianity during the Middle Ages, at best.

The highlight of this pandemic also shows, that poor trust between those in power and those led, contributes to social disaster. Adding this on the additional self-serving nature of jews, we cannot expect to move forward positively as a humanity.

On our planet, about 6 million children die every year. These souls that have to die before the age of 5 years old. This happens due to poverty, reckless regimes, plagues, the list goes. These people of course go un-noticed.

If they were the "Infamous" 6 million however that are of jewish descent, we would be talking about them for aeons to come. Everyone would do their utmost that these are brought in TV panels, in newspapers, in front of everyone's face. But these people are not really the ones whom our societies have been taken over to serve the interests for.

They are not the Jewish 6 million. They therefore, don't matter. Even if they were 60 million, or 600 million, or 6 billion, they wouldn't matter.

They will of course die this year also, under financial restraints, poverty, lock-down induced insanity, domestic violence. But nobody has mobilized yet to solve this issue at all.

How many destitute people worldwide are being created out of this? Some say hundreds of millions. And what is ahead of us? Automation of jobs, reconstruction of the job market, and people are shaky and damaged emotionally as is.

In order to supposedly save people that are 70+ years old [which were never even really saved with these measures], the millions of lives of unborn, and born young people, were sacrificed. Some countries are struggling with 25% suicidal disorders in their young population. Congratulations.

The enemy opened the tomb for the young people and the not yet born, in order to save people who were not even saved objectively. All of this happened in a Europe and United States with already struggling birthrates, and under invasion at unprecedented rate.

How many people will not be born for these years since people did not build relations, socialize, and love one another? How many unborn millions? How many already living are internally dead?

Writing this I am definitely aware that those in power, jews, and/or how people name them, the so called 'Elites' are actually of course not going to be sorry. They revile in happiness all of this happened.

For this same reason, they want to continue this possibly indefinitely. It's the perfect opportunity for mental warfare, reptilian impositions, poverty induction, and enforcing their alien prophecies. Feasting on the misery of mankind, they are attempting to grow. They are not going to feel any guilt or remorse. Indeed, we see that they are enjoying it.

Now that humanity is being exposed to the nature of these fiends, is why we have to fight. Educate everyone, and let the wise tell themselves: Those who are currently at the hands of the world, need to be replaced, and this world needs to become a better one.

For the future of all...
