

Total Lying in Front of Everyone - Rewriting History

It amazed me to see even in universities things happening which go directly against any notion of truth. Unfortunately, many people are illiterate, never study, and do not know better. Even if people have more knowledge in general, it's rare for many people to read a book or look into subjects that are of no immediate "gain".

I was reading an article of some random christian nut, who was trying to make the case of the first "Biologist" being a Christian Monk around the 15th century. The nut based this on the presupposition that it was the first monk to actually "study plants" and their "respective properties" and the christnut was trying to make a case on how this is thanks to "God" and his "Grace" that we gain said knowledge.

Aristotle and many other herbalists for centuries have written whole treatises about plants, animals, and anything basically under the earth. The "Church" creates academic lies of this sort. Another lie that circulates academia is that "Thomas Aquinas was the first known political scientist". I guess Plato, who wrote a whole book thousands of years before discussing all the conditions on which one country is to be run politically, was just yet another "Pagan Nutcase".

Even greater is the irony that all these "Church Fathers" are just worthless accursed souls and copycats who lack any individual creativity, same as the borg they worship. And this is why they are cursed, they will be destroyed, and then tormented as a soul group for all their crimes. They will want to re-consider later, but this boat has set asail. It's going to be the endgame for these christo-jews.

The only thing they can accomplish is knowledge theft, and to add insult to injury, they never, EVER do give credit to the "Pagan" sources, or they re-wrote all the texts and kept them locked for thousands of years. Based on this stolen knowledge, they were able to parade as the "Knowledgeable" and the "Wise" against a populace which was filled with fully illiterate people and appear as Gods in the middle ages and in many other occasions. We are talking about pure evil.

Needless to say, this person above which I explained on this lying, can be either one of the two: A retard that has the IQ of a dead jellyfish, and has no idea of any history whatsoever, and just therefore spreads his own ignorance. Or Two, this retard can be doing this on purpose and in accordance to the Jewish Abrahamic line to destroy all of history and replace it with jewish lies and drivel. It's difficult to discern in some cases of Christians as they are both liars and retarded, which one is the case, but I digress.

Indeed the lines between the Retard and the purposeful and bottomless evil liar, do blur really bad when Christianity is concerned. Christians are the people of the lie. They lie to themselves, they lie to others, about every single thing. Their life, their face, their existence, is all based on a hebrew lie, and how does this survive? With more lying.

The important thing to understand is that when the enemy takes over, all historical records will be gone or lost. To give you one example, the serfs of the Middle Ages in Europe didn't quite know for 14 centuries that they were the descendants of a once great and free people. This knowledge became available around the 14th century, seed by seed.

People were digging the grounds and finding busts of the Ancients, and they probably were told these are "Demons" and that Satan planted these there. It's a very well-known thing that anything the xians could get their hands on, as far as history is concerned, either got destroyed, or flattened, or perverted, or ended up in private collections. The Vatican itself is a private collection of the papacy and the related jews who kept information and artifacts from the general public. They knew; the serfs didn't.

It took three whole centuries from the deep middle ages, to the early renaissance for people to start figuring again their own Pagan Hellenistic culture, and when this was done, we have had numerous revolutions based on the new values - that were ironically, our ancient values. But people had no idea what was going on. The estimates of illiteracy during the middle ages are from 85% to 95% depending on the state, with the 15% or 5% of literate people being only either baseline literate or worse.

To understand what this means, let us just assume for a second that the retards and the tolerant filth in Europe do "Win" with their unholy alliance with the jews and the general disabled hyper mutated kalergi dross "Humans" they are trying to bring forth. This zombie type of people won't object, nor care. It will all be a "lost hazy thing", and not history.

This clump of crap will find itself in a technologically extremely advanced world (where all knowledge of the past will be digital, aka, will be able to be perverted overnight with a few buttons as our websites have disappeared). In this world, knowledge of the past, present and future, going "Paperless" and without "Monuments" can simply disappear.

Alternatively, due to their inherently destructive tendencies, and with jews on the top, maybe we will find ourselves before the space age into the middle ages repeat stage, especially with the rise of Islam in Europe. Bastardization and Islam are not very good survival recipes in general. Collapsing of all development is not unlikely, as the Kalergi sperms are also not going to like "Native Europe" a lot, too civilized for monkey brains.

The Kalergi mutants will be told in 500 years that Mohammed founded the Western Civilization, and that Mohammed threw a large turd which sunk the old civilization and killed all the people there, because of disobedience to the holy pedophile Allah and his prophet Mohammed. "In S'Allah" they will stay as they will go around a rock like dumb cattle, each owned as 2800 slaves to a jew, as one owns cattle.

Historical perversion can be input in books and whatever else have you. As for any "Leftovers", just consider what happened to most of the Pagan monuments as it is: The remains of these we found and preserved mostly AFTER the renaissance and AFTER people woke up. Then they were preserved because we admitted and knew beyond any doubt that our ancient civilizations existed. Of course, this was debatable by the church. One example here is how the ancient "Philistines" were debated to be non-existent and a figment of jewish imagination. However, later on, their remains were found.

Part of this process is also "SATAN" which ended up in the "Hebrew Bible" as the arch-villain, enemy of the jews, and mastermind behind the jewish destruction. For 19 centuries people were told that "Satan" was some sort of inferior bat with large wings, that attacks the so-called "Pious Christians" and that "Christos was our ancestral god".

There are people who are that dumb as to believe that "Christ" is not some imposition by the jews, but are lost in the shallow years of serfdom and brutal murder through which the "Christian Church" imposed itself, and through which, by its own record, people literally died and had centuries year old warfare to "resist" this impending jewish virus. But yes, "Christianity was our ancestral religion" and the general mental hemorrhoids will still be claimed by the fools and illiterate hillbillies who want a jew to rule over them - "Christ is part of our civilization".

Another part of the Hillbilly Jew type of history, is when these illiterates repeat that "Western Civilization is the Product of Christianity". With the advent of "Christianity", any form of civilization, let alone "Western" civilization aka Hellenic Civilization, did perish and disappear. The climax of the "Christian Age" was the complete destruction of the Hellenic and Roman models of any form of "Civilization", and the replacement of these with alien jewish serfdom, imposed slavery, ignorance at heights that were unknown to men for centuries prior. In 500 BC, people knew that the earth was not flat, and then people were told the earth was a square from 450 to 1500, until Galileo had to come around 1600 and tell them the evident, to be destroyed for doing the "preaching of heretical science".

Recently, with the rising of knowledge, one can open up a Sanskrit dictionary and find the roots of this word, and know that this has nothing to do with hebrew at its core. If anything, it only proves historical theft and corruption that the jews have done, and vilification of the Pagan elements even further - to the point this reveals the jews for the thieves that they are. This leaves the jews concerned and they only try to amend this by promoting more lies - to the jew, nothing of the Gentiles is real, or even existed, or has any right to history or any form of existence.

It's all a transitory state which we can dub as "Idolatry", and all of history can be swooped as if it never existed. An application of this mentality is the seizure of Palestine. By history or by truth, the jews never had a right to this land. However, because a book of lies got universal attention through it being forcibly enforced by the sword, people couldn't do otherwise and they gave them Palestine.

Even politicians back then did know beyond any doubt that this was a lie. The information was sufficient to prove that this is just another outrageous lie. What was the case however is that the jews had power to enforce what is, unironically, a lie on top of reality.

Point being and as a conclusive note, we are fighting against lies. The fact that we know the Truth is empowering, bolstering, and open-minded people will understand this. There is nothing 'fearful' in Satan, or in "Satan-ism" if one takes in consideration the historical context, our Pagan roots etc.

One can only begin to assume how many endless crimes the enemy has covered and removed all the traces to, how many 'civilizations' are gone and mistranslated, and how all notions of them disappeared.

Given also the power that little surviving information of great civilizations (Only 4% of all written material from Ancient Greeks has survived, and hardly anything was left without historical adulteration), can revitalize and regenerate even the dead (Middle Eastern Europe into modern Europe) - We can understand that the rising of information and knowledge, equals to the change and rise of new civilizations. So do not have question marks on your head as to why the Joy of Satan is purged from wherever the enemy has a hold on. It is because what we say is the Truth.

As a final note I wanted to mention something in regards to Hitler. Hitler and Himmler, with the power they had all over Europe, they had all the means, if they wanted to, to create fake artifacts, fake history, and in general, lie to substantiate everything. They chose to not do this and search for legitimate information and knowledge instead. They worked exactly in contrast to how the enemy did work on these matters. The truth today and in the future will show their actions as even more justified.

This is what led them in the East and to the admittance of European civilization being HELLENIC, ie, PAGAN, and not "CHRISTIAN". There is no "CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION". Hitler is known to have been aware of the 'shortage' of deep historical information, which was caused by the advent of Christianity, and also of the link of his and our own civilizations to our Racial Hellenic or in other terminology, which is definitive of our people and just comes out naturally from our blood.

I mean sure - if you dig around, you will find a lot of crosses, a lot of angel figurines, a lot of leftovers of the age of xianity, a lot of lies. Creating a half substantiated theory of the past based on jewish lies is the easiest thing one can do. It greatly serves the jewish present.

People absorb these lies easier as they can be proven by even more lying academia like the above which said that the first biologist was a "Christian Monk". Christianity is the type of cult to tell you that science is evil and at the same time to try to claim glories over its "Scientific minds" which are only pubic hairs to greater men of the past and actual scientists. The schizophrenia of xianity should again be apparent.

As such many weak people cannot follow Hitler's example and they go back to the comfortable historical lie, that is based on the replacement of the Free Europeans with a form of cattle under a jew - "Christianity". They can't follow the Swastika so they feel comfortable following the established jewish "Cross".

It goes beyond saying what was done to history about the National Socialists themselves. They basically became Satan and the Devil all over again, and Demons, and were hunted down by the "good people" of this world. The same good people who do the good stuff today to make Europeans brown, and will tell people that Hitler was a lunatic for saying that the "Jew has a plan to bastardize Europe to destroy Europe and Rule a mongrel people".

Because when you look at Europe, this doesn't look like it, does it? When you open your TV and you see all the interracial couples, just tell yourself "at least I am not a lunatic, and I see only what the (((Party))) of Mr. Goldstein wants me to see".

As far as the enemy is concerned, the book 1984 again comes to mind: "There was always the (((party))) and only the (((party)))".

Fight today because one day, our world may not only be history - but nothingness. In history something remains back and exists. The enemy's plan is not to keep us in history. If anything, we left traces of our history by clever planning and by the hand of the Gods. The enemy looks forward to erasing all notions that have to do with us in totality when their plantation can be established.

Make use of your freedoms today so that we can safeguard the future.

HAIL SATAN!!!
