

Victory: Websites All Back Up + Upgraded

HP Hooded Cobra 666

October 20, 2020

All websites have been successfully restored in full function, and are all working perfectly right now. This was an arduous process because of the attacks of the enemy, with issues coming from third parties and in no way related to our very own infrastructure.

For those who are doing activism, please know that all links will work again. We lost many days with this. We worked every minute to try to bring everything back ASAP. Due to this involving other third parties which were the problem in the first place, there were delays. We have to compensate for the days lost with extra activism until the end of the year.

The enemy did this to distract us, demoralize, and cause worry - while at the same time cutting down traffic to the site during our schedules. Those of you who are observant, know their methods. Their timing is also known and their patterns too. Those who have eyes can see.

As everyone here knows, the enemy is trying their earnest to make the internet a controlled space like television and the like. Nobody is allowed to have a differentiating opinion or voice. Their audacity has gone as far, as to censor presidents, heads of state, anyone and everyone. One just watches the current fiasco with the US elections, and they understand, the times of "Free Speech" are being stifled to their end.

Many people are sitting with their hands crossed, waiting silently for the death of every right that has been gained by Gentiles over tons of sacrifices. We will not do this. We will do everything in our power to resist this impending advance of the enemy force. Freedom of information is paramount.

The great news is, that the more the enemy presses on their agenda, the more they are actually drawing many people towards the side of their enemies. Many people are filled with disgust and hate, and the more the fragile lies of the enemy are collapsing, so more and more are coming to the Truth. It is a duty we have to Satan to keep everything going and to gather as many of the people as the Gods require as possible, so that advancement can happen.

During the Co-Vid situation, as there were many who decided to eat like cattle and watch Netflix all day, so were millions of people who started having rampant and unending questions on the disaster that hit their lives. Looking back in this situation, plots, conspiracies, and dark plans have submerged, and have been exposed. The enemy clearly hates that.

Everyone remembers back in 2019, we also experienced the same - we were almost wiped out. The same thing happened in late 2019, and then in 2020, "Coincidentally", both "During" and after the Co-Vid, recently. With the Co-Vid excuse they have went as far as to complete their 2017 assault on all bastions and websites of Free Speech, and major de-platforming. Yet those who are strong managed to persist and stand.

Many are not existing anymore, but the JoS is. We also went strong despite of all the difficulties and calamities.

Changes in many cases can take centuries, and battles can be burdening and arduous. A few months or a few years can feel like an eternity. Yet, in the larger spectrum of things, this is a war, and not a battle. It has chapters, but none of the chapter is the final end of the book, until the book itself is over.

Closely nobody in this world is left anymore with any other choice. People who falsely believe they have a choice, got the blunt of this lie to hit on them during the "Co-Vid" situation. All their rights were usurped in basically one night. The same goes for every other "Online" rights, which until today, revolved around the ability to exchange information freely.

The good news is, now with this happening, the enemy understands there will be opposition to what they are doing. Most people do not accept them anymore. The bad news is, the enemy will definitely insist.

One example here is how Ireland was literally pulled in yet again more of the same conversations and actions in regards to a "Lockdown". This came behind everyone's back, and without many justifications.

Needless to say, the enemy may go for a round 2 of this, to disseminate, gather data, and proceed with whatever agenda they have in mind. The Websites of ours have been empowered to be able to take the heat and be able to handle ongoing traffic. For those who remember, last time, during the Co-Vid, the websites literally almost crashed from the traffic many times. Chances are now, no more.

A heads up, <http://www.joyofsatan.org> will also undergo a major upgrade, so will the war room. When this is the case, there can be temporary downtime for a few days. Do not worry about this. It will come back even more solid than before.

This just proves that the enemy is responsible for all that they have been blamed for centuries, and are therefore, afraid of judgement. Even during the full power of the pandemic declaration, the enemy was always complaining that "everything is blamed on the jews", including the CoVid situation in itself. This was the case because circulation of information made sure that numerous plots traveled at the speed of light.

If they had nothing to fear then the Internet would never have to undergo any of this. At the same time, as the enemy tries to make the Internet no different from China with the use of brutal monopolies and legal trickology. Essentially, many of these actions do not belong to any "Free World" and are only more of the same Communism the enemy always has in mind.

The enemy also preaches the chore that companies cannot be "Apolitical", which is another word for the enemy forcing all companies to go "Leftist" and embrace the poisoned jewish star, rainbow, sickle, and everything else of theirs. As time goes, the enemy will try to wrestle this over to banks, as they have done with the press and media.

Yet, the future of this may entail a jump into new and other methods of transaction, which is also something that will unavoidably happen. Having jews on power and full centralization, the more this centralization happens, the closer one is to the Communist dictatorship. The Age Of Aquarius has to do strongly with the concept of better power distribution for common benefit.

The enemy is relentless, we have to be too. You don't defend something that they have targeted, it will be gone.

Needless to say, since, the internet will never be the same again. But after all this, what has this gained the enemy? Probably tens and tens of millions of people more eager and more than ever willing to resist them, that is all.

The Internet has become more and more poor as time goes, and more and more censored. At the same time, the thirst for information is also increasing exponentially, and similarly, there is an increase to the activity of the enemy. This creates in the mind of the enemy the need for even more measures, censorship, and attempts to destroy more and more. The more they do this, the circle of their problems increases.

There is also something else that is in the works that was a long-term plan, about a new JoS related website. This will involve participation of many members. Due to the timing, more will be related to the future instead.

Stay strong and always proud of what we have been accomplishing together.

HAIL SATAN!!!
