Since some brothers and sisters here have talked about Article 13. I sat down and read through the boring document of the bureaucrats, and what it says is pretty simple and boils down to a few points. I wanted to see if this was simply exaggerations of fear mongering, but it's not. The legislation is extremely board and it can be applied in virtually every situation. And we all can imagine where it will be applied as it always happens.

You can see for yourself below if you have the time.

<https://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content ... 2016PC0593>

First of all they say they do this for 'copyright' laws. But since the goyim are too stupid to bother themselves with such, as is the predisposition for every policy of the Jew-U, so the powers for reporting these 'incidents' will be put in the hands of companies or other entities. In plain slang you can have companies like in the US threatening you with ransoms so that they don't hit your copyright, or agencies created by the European Jewnion to manage this in all of it's territory.

It will be like the incident with Alinity shekel-eater-attention-whore who attacked Pewdiepie to get quick bucks from a copyright company. This is only one form this can take place. And notice this happened in the from of a very good US based platform with similar legislation in regards to copyrighting. This thing could become everyday life in Europea and reach a point of blackmail.

Press articles questioning the Jew-U, could disappear over copyright grounds. In general even linking to a press article could hold you liable of abuse of copyrights, even quoting a said article. Re-tweeting even could be affected. Add this in conjunction to the "Fake News" paranoia the enemy has created, and you shortly will have an internet as dead as Merkel's rotting jewish soul.

Even private files could be affected over the reason of 'private investigation for stealing copyrighted material'. For example, they can brand someone a copyrighted material thief. While they let loose pedophiles in the Vatican, they can accuse children in poor EU countries for downloading a show that is 'copyrighted' fairly easily. The capability of paranoia with these laws is very high.

Also, this will end the anonymity of the internet. Since there is a chance one may have to pay internet tax in order to upload let's say, a picture for their website.

Essentially the EU is crumbling so it's trying to create a censorship machine now. What this is going to do is go to every website, publication, and whatever else the right wing parties or others have, and accuse them of stealing copyright. More than likely online bots and specific programs will do the searching, so the entities that use images or even share links can find themselves in huge fines over virtually nothing.

Since these vanity fines can be too huge, they may simply go to jail to avoid paying for them. It may not be long until a random meme'r is going to have to testify at a court on why he used a picture. And we all know WHICH side in politics uses memes, imagery, and the internet. It's not the baby boomers that vote for "Accept A Jewish Pension High Pension- To Rape Your Country And Relinquish your Right To existence-" Merkel.

For what it also looks like for example. Pictures of Hitler may be banned from circulation as well. Since many are 'copyrighted' by (((documentary owners))) or other agencies that keep copyrights of random deceased people unrightfully. Many said jewish companies will smell the gold and start assaulting Gentiles who use all sorts of material to bully and harass people, or outright legal threats.

Lastly what also could happen is that sharing of information could also be affected. For example, if you write something exposing the enemy, it may not be able to be blocked based on free speech. Now some jew who owns the copyright to a certain version of the Talmud let's say, can file against you, and if you put this quote in your posts in regards to how it's fine to rape a 3 year old, and it exists in it's book, they can just shut you down over "copyright" grounds.

We have to keep doing the RTR's, this is a very grim and paranoid situation the jews are opening up to. It has to fail. And given the past of Europe when it comes to passing legislations and not giving a fuck (5-6 jews essentially control what is going on in Europe as appointed by the Banksters), we have to put extra effort to counteract against this.

The good news is that everytime these things happen in Europe people grow off the handle. So when random memers will get to justice and someone will want to report it and use a picture (fewer pictures may even show in google or other search engines as well) they may not be able to even report on 'copyright' grounds.

If this comes to pass from these traitors in the parliament, then deadly spiritual warfare may have to ensue, but this is unclear. There are aware elements in both the EU and US parliaments right now, who actually DO fight for freedom. Let's help so that the Gods don't let this happen to this world for it will be devastating.

The internet belongs to humanity as a universal human right. There is no reason to censor anything on it. Those who censor the internet do effectively censor a dragon with infinite mouths. And these mouths will burn them.

We need to do the RTR's exactly as we are instructed and make sure this does NOT happen. The Part 2 of the Schedule will be centered around counteracting the above while maintaining pressure on important areas.

These stinky censorship reptiles think they can silence us by the criminal laws conceived by a few of their species against the whole of the world. Then we can reply with a few of our RTR's in exchange.

Really though, this whole thing smells like desperation. Article 13 must have been hurriedly scraped together after the failure of destroying net neutrality. Their lack of patience will no doubt be their downfall.

We were aware of the matter before but we didn't write something right away. I started looking on it after HP Don mentioned it somewhere. Also this BS they have written in these 56 boring pages is just plain fucking boring. Some of these laws are 150 pages long or sometimes even thousands, so not even those who are to vote for them have time to read the terms that they sign.

What it does is say the obvious, that they will for example further their 'information data mining operations' to find offenders (aka, everyone who may have something that is copyrighted randomly in their cloud, upload service, or even personal PC) and then it say some BS about how it will apply only "IF" and some broad "IF's" to make it seem innocent and pretend it's only for academia or whatever.

"I will put these guys in the gulag goy, but only these guys. Are you an academic? No. So please accept the building of the gulag, fund it, and I promise you you aren't going in."

This is Net Neutrality 3.0 basically in just a different form. Essentially just binding the internet by the authority of the few and the rich.

I have also found a document from the European Parliament years ago that says basically instructs about how the "Press covering" of the Migrant Crisis has to happen and how it has to agree with 'human rights'. It's a directive so that they report it "Favorably", and then they published another one to complain they did not and to link this with populism and mass fear over the "Migration". MUH FREEDOM OF THE PRESS GOY...

Every single video on the above (Such as the epic video "With Open Borders, The Collective Suicide of European Nations") have been destroyed under the pretext of 'copyrights'. This is just intensification of the above. It also has some random BS about how this will financially help 'music creators' (my ass) and then it goes into the main points.

Youtube in many European countries is also fully castrated, all you see is Migrant Doctors and Migrant PhD, and you can only watch documentaries about how evil Hitler was and how many Ovens he had. And probably be blacklisted for Gulag Samisdat in the process.

This "article" is crappily put together, very obvious. Not even obscure. If anyone has the time to read these things, you'll be surprized on how open they are about numerous said subjects about censorship etc.

Never save things that you don't have the rights for in the 'clouds'. Or this is what is going to happen.

They check your files.

And also yes, this is actually piracy.

Also thanks for pointing it out. It's important if someone finds something they can bring it here for discussion. We cannot look at everything at once.

Worst case scenario now, they can shut down and/or give penalties to your account. Which is why we need to be iron firm and resolute with the RTR's. That is sensible. As for those sharing copyrighted stuff, that is illegal, end of point.

Because if laws such as the above pass, they can easily fuck up people for having meme pics that are 'copyrighted' by someone. There are laws and laws. If someone has the money, they should buy. People there are working too to produce these things obviously. One example is music.

"Stealing" music when there is youtube, or spotify where you can pay 7 bucks a month and the creators get paid, is a no brainer. Artists need to eat too. By listening to Gentiles you can help them generate revenue for it. The copyright system worked fine in Youtube, way better than they propose now, for example, the more people shared content of an artist, the more the artist would get paid by the auto-copyright thing. They also gain free advertising.

This is part of the false pretext they use to promote this BS Article 13, part of it is to 'help artists' while all the jewish system does is destroy Artists and put them in poverty most of the time. And based on the above pretext they use this as a cover to destroy the internet and mine info from clouds, pc's etc, directly and legally.

The reason for the timing is they are bringing this in now because the entire EU is breaking apart and they found out with the case in England their controlled fake news media has lost its power. They also found out the hard way in the Trump election in America the online free press got Trump elected. Despite they attacked him all the time in the mainstream. It also cost them most of their media control over the narrative. They know the populism wave is riding in Europe in a few cycles of European elections the entire EU is going to disappear.
