

Parapsychological Powers of the Siddhis Documented By Science Already

JoS member ac32598 wrote:

Just curious as to why nobody has been able to provide concrete evidence of magick. I know there are certain people who offer a reward if someone can prove they have occult ability, but no one has been able to pass the test. I would think someone adept at magick would easily be able to provide proof of magick such as pyrokinesis, is this because Jews prevent actual evidence from ever getting out to the public? If not, why?

Back in the 19th century, there was documented proof of the existence of siddhis in humans. This was documented by the president of the Royal Society in England (the top ranking scientific society), Sir William Crookes, and the co-founder of the Theory of Evolution with Darwin, Alfred Russell Wallace (the Theory of Evolution was originally called the Darwin-Wallace Theory).

The siddhis documented ranged from telekinesis and levitation under scientific conditions. In the case of Daniel Hume, Hume once levitated in front of the scientists up into the air, out the open window on the third floor, and came back through another open window. This just one ability Hume demonstrated.

There is also a book "The New Soviet Psychic Discoveries" published by two American researchers (Henry Gris and William Dick) who went into the Soviet Union and documented numerous cases of people who have been tested by scientists under lab conditions and have the same abilities Hume did, along with other powerful psychic abilities.

Dr. Dean Radin has also documented the fact that humans have ESP in numerous lab tests. We have the numerous works of Rupert Sheldrake on the subject. The prominent Nobel Prize winners in physics, Pierre and Marie Curie, documented the same abilities of telekinesis and other psychic abilities in a psychology institute in Paris. After years of studying such individuals under lab conditions, they wrote to their fellow colleagues in the physics community and stated the siddhis are absolutely real and must be taken into accountability.

As Radin stated in his lecture on taboo on psychic abilities, the scientific community has a taboo against researching psychic abilities, they can even lose their career. This is why Wallace's name was taken off the Theory of Evolution and Darwin's was left.

“Science and the taboo of psi” with Dean Radin:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qw_O9Qiwqew

The test you are mentioning is by James Randi. There was a lawyer who wrote a report on this. The contract Randi offers is not a legal document and is designed so that Randi can deny you no matter what, even if he can't disprove anything you demonstrated. This is what happens, people go and prove they have abilities and get denied anyway. This challenge is biased to the point that it's a purposeful fraud. This has led to law suits against him and his fake challenge:

<https://web.archive.org/web/20210720013233/https://bolenreport.com/us-federal-agents-arrest-top-skeptic/>

So who is this “nobody has ever been able to prove any evidence of the siddhis” again....

March 6, 2016

Joy of Satan Forums Contributions