

RTR Schedule - Oct 6 to Oct 15 [Yom Kippur Counterattack] - [Schedule Finished]

by High Priest Hooded Cobra 666

October 6, 2022

Greetings to all of our Spiritual Satanists,

After all the recent attacks of the enemy, there is good and bad news.

The good news is that they are entirely exhausted and they have went through their most stressful holidays in cursing. Great for us. We are not the ones cursing the whole planet after all. They are wholly undermined now.

The bad news is that the global situation is not looking good and that we will have to focus on certain Rituals to turn this back. So we have to counteract this yet again. Yet if anyone stops this won't last, but should we continue, we will do everything as we should.

Oftentimes there are questions about them and especially on Jewish Holidays, where certain people here start talking about how poor and sorry the jews are, and how much they are not responsible for anything and so on. Jews are living self deciding beings with sentience and the power of choice.

And they have a lot more power, especially spiritually, than anyone else currently in this world except maybe us here who know about the occult.

They know exactly what they are doing, and are not in a category of just silly Gentiles who do know know what dawns for them the next day and walk around aimlessly and without culture, heritage, mission, or anything like that.

Coincidentally, these strange whiny attacks happen on literally the Holiday where Jews do Rituals to clean up their own "wrongdoings" against Gentiles, in strange ritualistic fashion. That is called Yom Kippur.

I have never really seen in this world anyone arguing about all the crimes heaped upon Gentiles, to the jews. Yet, everyone will cry at the Gentiles, who are the victims, to actually "cut it" towards the Jews.

What is even funnier, is the Gentiles, in the position of weakness and victimization, can almost do nothing at all against them, but the jews want them to stop even doing the little nothing that they do, while they want on the other hand to not be done anything against them.

The word "against" or "enemy" translated in Hebrew, is to not act as a "Ha-Satan" towards them. No opposition whatsoever.

It makes you wonder why as they stand above literally everyone else, in judicial palaces, in money, and everywhere else, they are still so obsessed with nobody even doing the most remote criticism to them, which after all is a fundamental human right.

Even more strangely, during this celebration of Yom Kippur, they do Rituals to cleanse their "vows" and try to evade justice because of what they did towards Gentiles and to affirm none of the vows or promises they made matters at all. This includes heads of state, people in Freemasonic Lodges, businessmen and so on.

As they put their hands and take a vow, they do another Ritual to "not take part in any vows", because they know the Gods observe this and this violation is highest sacrilege. This is why Kings and so on had to vow to protect the people and so on.

Because they cannot erase their "Vows", they do strange Rituals instead, the big one of this being in Yom Kippur. In a sense that is like a criminal trying to erase any records that could be found by the police.

Other Rituals also include how they transfer their "Sins" to chickens [yes, actual chickens, the animals that are eaten], and other stranger Rituals where they transfer their "Collective Sins" to Azazel.

As we can see, nor their victims in the first case are responsible, nor the chickens, and definitely not Azazel. For a race to do all these Rituals on the yearly, it should come to nobody as a question that something is wrong with them.

Why is it the case they are so nationally focused in literally doing shifting of crimes and blame towards all these other sources? After one reads about them and wakes up to them, you will know.

After Jews do Yom Kippur, they also send some servants or some spiritually unaware people in the forum to spew out propaganda about how innocent they COULD be in some fantastic scenario, but the scenario of REALITY tells us otherwise.

None of these messages were put through except of maybe a couple. It is also interesting to see how people grow that sentimental during the Yom Kippur.

The reason why they do this on Yom Kippur is because Yom Kippur is a large Ritual for Jews to cleanse themselves from their "crimes".

In the Jewish mind, it is not a crime if no-one saw it, and if people saw it and they "forgive them", this allows them to continue unimpeded. This is the definition of injustice, and just forgiving them is the definition of this.

After they do so much, they are after "forgiveness" because they know to not forgive or not forgive unless there is a REAL correction [which they never do] is the definition of permanent injustice.

Now, if anyone is watching the news, recently the British Economy almost collapsed a few days ago. This happened because the jews were essentially gambling away the pension funds of people through complex financial instruments.

As they were about to collapse entirely and collapse the pensions of two or three generations, the British Government has to step in and print money, devaluing and destroying further it's own [the people's] currency, in order to "save the financial system". Ie, three generations of elderly would be wiped out of all their live's work because of some kikes gambling it away.

After this, the British Government further indebted the Britons for generations to come, only because these jews were gambling away the pensions and other finances of the state, instead of somehow trying to safely maintain them and grow them.

But who the fuck cares over this one too and endless other things, right? Let's just all pretend three generations thrown in the gutter is fine and everything. They are Gentiles after all, so who is there to care for them and do any Rituals for them, while they are at the mercy of the occult power of the jews? The answer to that is that we are here for this, that this is US.

But you will excuse them for this on Yom Kippur like a good little goy, and make sure to turn the other cheek eternally, because you have to be a good "moral goy" and "follow the Light" or something.

How is it however that allowing all the above to commence without lifting a finger, does actually show any sense of justice inside someone, let alone any affiliation with the spiritual light?

Let me explain here: You are immoral. You have been conned into thinking this nonsensical and evil approach is also "good", which it is not.

Not only you are not moral or a justice oriented being by the definition of logic and the Ancients if you do not do anything, but through this denial, you deny the whole notion of any sense of justice whatsoever.

In that case, you are following and you are a servant of something lesser than the lowest abysmal darkness. You are a co-actor in the evil plot that they are creating.

They have fooled you, but when you will show up in front of the Gods or the Afterlife, they will not be happy with your behavior and how you have allowed all of this to happen without caring at all, and how we pressed the "Forgive" button as a society, allowing ourselves to completely collapse, and with ourselves all the work of the Gods, their culture, and everything they founded on the planet, or a "Forgiveness" that further resulted in our extinction.

When Nations collapse, people extinct in them, or end up as slaves and victims of other predator Nations. This will include all the innocent people who cannot do anything. Wars begin shortly afterwards, and people are annexed like animals.

But due to lack of awareness, many people think "Forgiveness" is something to take lightly, or to throw it around and "excuse" them all just because of a random feeling of sentimentality that does not follow any logic in it.

The reasons we also have to do endless "Anti-War" Rituals lately, is because these lunatics have a plan to cause wars and instate global poverty, to promote other more evil plans. One war involves the jewish goonies and is already ongoing, without cessation for closely a year, and has on many turns almost cost us a WW3 and damage to all beings on Europe, the US and abroad.

Indirectly through this, other Nations are threatened through internal collapse or shortages in food, energy and other damning circumstances. These events are unfolding in front of our very eyes. These have to be stopped, there is no debate if they should be stopped or if we should fittingly do our part in stopping this.

Should people be left again without any defense whatsoever? These people constantly ask "Where is God"? And we are here to show them that the Gods do see Injustice and to help reverse it.

As about the enemy, it is entirely their choice to misuse this power, to curse, to promote hate, and all of the choices they have been committing over hundreds of years, closing in to two millennia. They are not the average goyim ignoramus that walks around completely blind and brainwashed by Christianity or Islam, which THEY made.

They have awareness of the situation of the world and their position in it.

They will be judged for it, do not worry about this. They are conscious of all of this for generations. Any few of their own that deviated from this task and told them to "slow it down", the jews have obliterated, or called "traitors" and so on. These processes take time.

They are now doing everything in front of everyone which is a very bad policy for all of these actions. The Gods handle these processes above everyone else.

Curses, spiritual power, and Justice in general, is delivered through these processes to those who are responsible for this. How this manifests is known through the Gods and the invisible forces behind this.

It is normal to not be able to comprehend that our world is presently run by so much evil and it needs a form of intervention to turn around, but it is also part of being a liar to not make the consideration of doing the research to see if this is ACTUALLY the case.

Look around you, and read the knowledge and information. If you still do cower or cannot take this, it is fine and acceptable, but allow those who should promote justice to do it.

For the rest of us who are Warriors of the Gods, let us proceed with the Schedule.

Below the Schedule:

We will do all of these Rituals for the Duration of all the Days of the Schedule.

[The Final RTR is a given. But the Rituals below have to be done. If one can also put one Final RTR, they should do it. Alternatively, after we are "done" with the schedule, one can focus on the Final. Keep in mind, the FRTR should be taken as a daily duty.]
