

Satan Lucifer, The Lord of the World

The original religion of Earth is called the SANAT-ana Dharma.

Kumara means Lord, Sanat means Eternal... Sanat Kumara means "Eternal Lord", and "The Eternal God". Sanat is also spelled as Satan by His ancient Followers as well. Satan Kumara, The Eternal God.

The Eternal, highest God is also called Sata, Satam, and Satan in Hinduism, and His mantra is SaTaNaMa, known as the highest mantra of serpent power (kundalini) yoga. Satan or Sanat, these are the same title and meaning.

In the most ancient texts of Hinduism in Tamil Nadu, they state the primordial age (known as the Golden Age), named the Sat Yuga, civilization was called Kumara Kandam and was ruled by Sanat Kumara, who came to this world with the other Gods from another star system. This civilization extended to a land mass now mostly underwater, with some of it remaining above water such as Tamil Nadu. The Peoples of the Far East from Thailand, to the ancient Americas all have the same record of a Golden Age civilization that once extended across a large continent, now much of it under the Indian and Pacific ocean.

The Greeks, Druids, Egyptians, and Romans all stated in their ancient records that they came from the East from the same area. The Romans had a ritual of mourning called Lemuria where they threw effigies of their ancestors into the River Tiber to remember when this land was lost. The name of this land was also called MU. The ancient Mayans had the record of coming from this early region as well. And the Peoples of the Americas record these White Gods teaching them spiritual knowledge and cultural knowledge such as how to grow food, how to build homes, medicines, astrology, and other knowledge. There are African tribes such as the Dogon, that state they received the same knowledge from the same Beings.

This explains the megalithic ruins found across the East, from off the coast of India all the way to Nan Madol in Micronesia, to the ruins off the Japanese coast, to the Andes in the Americas. All these ruins are shown to come from the same core civilization, all are described by the natives as having been built by a tall White Race with light hair and European features, who were ascended spiritual masters.

The ancient Tibetan and Far Eastern texts state that the hub of this ancient civilization was in the region of what is known as the Gobi Desert. There have been numerous findings here, from the White Mummies to what Professor Kosloff, a Russian archaeologist, found in a tomb in the Gobi Desert after digging down fifty feet: artifacts dated to 18,000 years old. The records claim, and the migration shows, that the Aryan Race pushed westwards from the regions of the Gobi Desert, Pamir Mountains, Northern India, and central Asia in general. Some of the world's largest Pyramids are in north-western China, and there are potentially over a hundred pyramids in this region, many of which have not even been fully examined.

The largest ancient cities on Earth have been found around the ancient Silk Road and their inhabitants were Aryan Peoples. The Chinese mention they received their culture from tall Aryan peoples, and their ancient records talk of green and blue eyed Emperors. Many people in China, Korea, and Japan are what today would be called Euro-Asian. They still have the divine culture of the Gods as well. The Japanese call Sanat/Satan “Sonten”, and state His eternal spirit resides in the sacred mount Kurama, in Japan.

The Gobi Desert region was stated in the records in the Golden Age to have been the capital in which Sanat Kumara ruled from directly while on Earth along with the other Gods. This is called Shamballa in the Far East. This also might be the source of Valhalla, the city in which Odin rules from. Some of the writings on the ancient Norse mention that they migrated from the East. The people of modern Hungary and Romania did as well. The ancient Aryan Hun Empire went all the way to the Far East to the Uyghur region (Xinjiang) of the current Gobi. Hungary is from Hun-Land, it was officially granted to the Hungarian forebears of Attila. They were not racial Asians but Aryans from further east. The Scythians came out of the central Asian regions into Europe and became the Slavs, Saxons, and Celts.

The Yezidi, who are called the “blonde blood line”, have a calendar that is seven thousand years old, and they state they migrated out of the East from Northern India and were part of the Sumerian civilization. The Chaldeans came out of the Hindu Kush mountain range, along with the ancient Phoenicians. The Phoenician Gods were red-haired and blue-eyed, as their ancient images show them as Aryan People like the Sumerians. Tests on their remains show them as European. The Yezidi show Sanat (who they call Satan) in their writings as the eternal youth surrounded with peacock feathers. This is the same way Sanat/Satan is shown in India and Tibet.

The Yezidi text, the Al Jiwah, mentions the realm of Shamballa within it. If one goes to India you will find the Yezidi religion, as the Yezidis themselves state. In the worship of Sanat Kumara, also called Skanda, He is shown many times as colored red, riding a peacock, and with a serpent. This is how the Tibetans show Amitabha Buddha: colored red and riding a peacock. Amitabha Buddha worship is twenty thousand years old in the Far East where He is the Head God. The Tibetan’s original religion is called Bon; further east to China it is called Mon. The worship of Mon is not the everlasting blue sky, it’s actually a blue colored God. The Mongols relate their origin from a race of blue eyed Whites of divine descent. The Tibetans stated they got Bon from a race of Aryans. Of the current Asian groups in the Far East many, one way or another, mention a previous race of Aryans whose home civilization was Shamballa. The Yezidis state the Aryan race came directly from Satan, Sanat Kumara, and are the original people of this world. However, the other races are under the protection of the Gods and some do descend from them as well.

The Jews call the Demons the "Shidim" in their kabbalah, but this is from the older Babylon name of Shidda which is Sidda. The name of the Yezidi in Sanskrit is Ya Sidda. The Siddha's, meaning "shining ones". Shiva is also called SATA SHIVA in Hinduism, which in Sanskrit is also Satan Shivam. In Hinduism Shiva is called "Swarupa" which means "The White God". This is a racial term as the Indians called the Europeans the "Swarupas".

In Primordial Greece, before the fall of the Minoan civilization, the head God Zeus was shown as the eternally young God, called Korios, meaning "lord" or "master". He was blue colored had a white bull, 12 cow-herder companions, and a consort called Rodha. He played a sacred flute as well. Korios is from the Sanskrit, Kumara. His other symbols are the Peacock and the serpent and he carries a staff, thyrsus, or spear, as Dionysus. The Peacock is only native to the Far East, where the Greeks state they came from a place called Pan Achaea. Their oldest God still carries the same appearance, banners, totems and myths as Skanda in India, of whom the Greeks state Dionysus was. Of their maps they called Sri Lanka the place of Dionysus.

The mythos of Dionysus is the exact same as Skanda. Korios is the primordial God from which the other images of the head Gods in Greece came from. Dionysus is the Korios. His worship was so ancient the later Greeks thought His religion was foreign and from Egypt, as the Greeks lost much of their culture after the devastation that caused the end of the Minoan civilization; the whole island blew up and destroyed most of the region in the fall out. The Egyptians recorded this and mentioned that they had kept the records the Greeks had largely lost when they were nearly wiped out. The Greeks and Egyptians both stated Osiris and Dionysus are the same God, and Ptah is another name of Osiris in Memphis.

One will note the ancient figure of Korios is also the famous incarnation of Vishnu in India, Krishna. The Hindu Puranas state all the famous head Gods of Hinduism including Vishnu, go back to one very ancient God, Sanat Kumara. They are images of the same primeval God, Sanat Kumara. The Chandogya Upanishads also state that it was Sanat Kumara who handed down the Siddha Marga, the Path of Perfection to mankind, the teachings of ascension. The Yezidis, who worship the same God Sanat as Satan, also state the same.

Venus in Sanatana Dharma is the highest cosmic principal, it rules sound and white light, and the spectrum of light. As it descends it creates all existence which is condensed sound and light. However, what we perceive as white light is stated in the Vedic texts to be blue light. This is why the ancient image of the God Sanat Kumara is shown as blue. This is the purified soul and the concept of Venus.

This is the reason for Lucifer, it's a name of Venus (Lucifer means "Light-bringer" in Latin). Sanat Kumara is called Shukra, which means Venus in Sanskrit. Sanat esoterically represents Venus. This is the same God as Dionysus and Osiris, they are also called Venus in their ancient cultures. Note that in the JoS we believe Osiris to be a son of Satan, but close relations often caused interchangeability in ancient texts.

The reason for the Left Hand Path, which is from Sanatana Dharma, is that it is the name of Kundalini Yoga, the "Left" is Shakti, the serpent energy. This is because the planet Venus is the only planet that rotates clockwise, said to be retrograde, to the left; this is in the opposite direction of Earth and the other planets (other than Uranus, which is also clockwise; it is interesting to note that Uranus is the planet that rules the occult). The LHP is the path of Venus, Sanat Kumara. The pentagram is also the symbol of Venus, the shape of the orbit of Venus and the five is a Venus number. This symbol of Venus would have 666 placed with it to show spiritual rebirth. Venus's number also connect to the Sun. The ankh, the symbol of spiritual rebirth, is the symbol of Venus.

Venus on the horizon.

Venus rules the mystical transformation of the soul as the morning and evening star. Venus's eight year cycle is a spiritual number of enlightenment and immortality. Its position on the horizon as the evening star just before it disappears into the night of the underworld, to its triumphant reappearance in the dawn heralding the reborn soul, spiritual victory.

Venus is also ruler of the serpents. Venus rules wisdom. This is connected to the throat chakra, which Venus rules, which is why Shiva is called "the blue-throated one". Venus rules the path of the gods, the sushumna. Vasu is the name of Vishnu relating to Venus as well. Vasu, Vas is the symbol of divine kingship in Egypt. Venus is about spiritual and material perfection. Venus in Sanatana Dharma rules the serpent energy and the raising of this energy. On a higher spiritual level, it is said that Venus rules the mula (base) chakra and the other chakras. The Venus power is about bringing the serpent up through the chakras.

Venus rules the element of air, which is the breath of life and spirit, which element is sound and the blue light of creation. This is ruled by Mercury on a level, but Venus on the highest level. The perfected body is related to this element in the Far East, air. The symbol of air, prana is the serpent of Sanat Kumara, Satan.

Venus rules the Kunda (which means water pond) but is the name of the root chakra and tail bone, and serpent energy. The water of life, which is the serpent energy, and flowing prana. The sushumna is called the Kunda Kula, the Kunda path. The name Kunda...lini comes from this. This is Kundry in the Grail mythos.

Shamballa is shown esoterically as the eight petal city with Sanat Kumara sitting on the throne of the world in the center of His palace. In Sri Lanka the entrance to the Temple of Sanat Kumara as Skanda has a golden throne outside to show His kingship of the world. The Grail castle in the Western mythos of the Templars has Sanat Kumara sitting in the center of an eight sided grail castle wearing a peacock crown. As in Tibet, the same being is shown with a peacock crown.

The Grail is openly of Venus, the Venus stone or cup in the Grail mythos. The emerald and diamond are the symbols of Venus. An ancient name of Osiris was Al-Khadir; this is also a name of the Yezidi God, Satan (however, this name has been corrupted by islam). In Sri Lanka the Temple sacred to Sanat Kumara is called Khadirgama, "The Place of Khadir". In the story of Khadir, he rules the waters of life, the kundalini, and drinks of them and becomes immortal. Al-Khadir means "The Green Man", the color of emerald. The emerald rules the transmuted stone; this stone is the element of earth and by the serpent fire it's transmuted in a pure light crystal of the emerald or diamond. The meaning of the Grail which means Gro-al, the inscribed stone. The Templars have the images of the Green Man in the eight-pointed star in their buildings.

The popular shape of the Western Grail is the Mount Meru column in the East. The palace of Sanat Kumara in Shamballa in the Kala Chakra, His teachings of ascension, show the base of the palace is the yantra of the root chakra and upward steps as the levels of the Mount Meru column in other images. The Meru column is openly shown as the hexagram symbol, the star of Venus. In India, the Yogis who worship Sanat Kumara directly, their practices are based on awakening the serpent at the root and moving it up the spine.

The Exoteric world Sanat Kumara (Satan) is the ruler of, is this physical planet (Earth). The Esoteric world He is ruler of, is the soul. His kingdom is the spine which is the cosmic axis and the serpentine life force that flows through it. His symbol of the grail is the unified soul. It is a six pointed star symbol, which is the star of Venus in the East and the symbol on His yantra in Southern India. His other symbol is the peacock standing atop the Mount Meru column. This is also the flute Krishna carries, it has the peacock on the top. The spine with the serpent energy, the prana, moving through it. Krishna-Vishnu, as mentioned, is the Indian Venus. Vishnu is pronounced in some dialects as Vesnu, which is an anagram of Venus.

Venus was shown as an androgynous being many times and was the origin of the Baphomet of the Templars. The main Templar symbol is the eight pointed star of Venus. Their practices are still found in Hindu Tantra; the awaking of the serpent energy and moving it up the spine.

The esoteric meaning of the world is the Temple. It represents the entire soul including the physical body, which is the animation of the soul's more dense manifestation. The teachings of Sanat are how to make the body and soul one, by purifying the earth element with serpent fire. Hence Satan is the God of fire as well. As Skanda, He descends to earth and makes war on and exterminates the Asuras from the Earth, who represent the dross to be burned out. The process of Yoga is purifying all the elements back to their core essence of spirit, which is ruled by Venus, by the practices of Siddha Marga (the "path of the Siddhas", or, "path of the accomplished"), the kundalini Yoga. Kundalini is the symbol of Venus, Sanat Kumara. Satan.

This is why the enemy extra terrestrials, the Reptilians, attacked this planet in a cosmic war across the solar system around ten thousand years ago which caused the devastation of this planet and the end of the Golden Age. And their Reptilian hybrid race the Jews, the alien Jews themselves are the only race on Earth that has an actual Reptilian gene, the Cohen gene, and a Reptilian appearance and behavior. They have been working to remove this knowledge from humanity and rewrite history in a false narrative to turn this planet into a plantation state where humanity is reduced to micro-chipped cattle.

The Eastern texts make constant mention that Sanat Kumara appears to and works with different Yogis directly in His etheric form, and gives them instructions. As Satan, Sanat states He does in the Al-Jiwah. Bogarnathar, a famous Yogi, stated he received direct instruction from Sanat in this etheric form, and that he finished the Magnum Opus and ascended with Sanat's instruction. From here he established a school of Yoga to teach others. What is left of the known teachings of this Yoga, is Kundalini Yoga. There are many records of Yogis doing such with direct help from Sanat. The ancient Greeks stated that Zeus, who is associated with Sanat, sends Daemons to help those on the spiritual path. Daemon later became Demon in spelling. These are the Gods appearing in their astral bodies to help the dedicated ones. This is why all dedicated members in the JoS receive a Guardian Daemon. This is nothing new.

These are people who have spiritual practices which allow them to be on the spiritual level where they can communicate with the etheric form of Sanat Kumara. The Gods have the ability to astral project and communicate directly face to face with humans who have the spiritual, psychic centers open enough for this. Which is how the JoS has been established and directed in our time.

The enemy needs to remove this knowledge to close humanity off from Satan and the Gods so we can no longer communicate with them. Because our connection with Satan would be the end of the enemy's program. So, they remove this knowledge and then scare everyone with lies about Satan, and about the "occult" to keep people powerless and deceived. And when the lack of spiritual knowledge has taken its toll, they then push Marxist materialism, which allows the enemy to push their own agenda to exterminate and enslave humanity into a global factory farm run by Jews who use occult power in their kabbalah at the top, and communicate with their Reptilian masters. This is why the enemy thoughtform of Jehova has numerous curses to bind humanity on the soul and keep them from ascending on any level. Bind them and then damn them; this is the game of the Jews.

In Germany there was a young patriot who was practicing the spiritual knowledge he was able to find in spiritual publications and books from the Hindu East. He opened up his spiritual abilities to where he could communicate with Sanat/Satan directly as the spiritual society he was a member in showed him how, as they were in contact through their spiritually opened people. That group created the National Socialist Party and that man became the German Leader of a new society whose purpose was the divine mission of reestablishing the Sanat-ana Dharma to the world and defeating the power of the enemy who were trying to enslave humanity under Marxism. Today that man is lied about as much as Sanat/Satan by the same enemy for the same reason.

That is just what happened the last time with a handful of people. What does the future hold...

Our planet will be ruled again in a new golden age from the peacock throne of Satan Kumara, Lord of the World.
