

The Forbidden Fruit Exposed

The "forbidden fruit" in the "Garden of Eden" was what allowed people to distinguish good from evil, truth from lies, and what granted them immortal life by transforming them into the Light Body. This is encoded in the Jewish texts - what YHVH (the Jewish race) and their reptilian masters want to hide from us to control humanity.

So what exactly is the forbidden fruit? The Yezidis state this was wheat, which is bread. The fruit is symbolic of one thing - the dew of the activated pineal gland that comes with fully opening the third eye and the crown chakra. This substance is called Amrita. Amrita is what the Gnostics who honored Lucifer called "the Amor". This comes from "अमृत" (Amrita) which means "deathless" in Sanskrit. Ambrosia - the food of the Gods that allegorically kept them immortal is another spelling of Amrita. Hence Amor/Amrita means to be deathless.

In the East, Amrita is believed to be the key to regenerating the body, this also includes reversing aging. This nectar is the food of the Gods - meaning our own chakras. This is what the Grail relates to - the collecting of Amrita into the solar chakra. Amrita activates this chakra which sends the energy through the other chakras and nadis transforming them. This is the key to the Light Body. The solar chakra turns pranic energy into a vital force, and as important as the sun is to life on the earth, the activated and transformed solar chakra is to the human being.

The ability to absolutely know the truth is connected to the state of "superconsciousness", which comes with the full opening of the mind and the psychic centers in the brain. The brain connects with the higher astral and cosmic forces of infinity, a part of this also relates to what is called the Akashic records.

Note that in the Jewish Kabbalah, there is a term in Hebrew that means "binding". This term is highly important in Jewish witchcraft, and it's based on a reversed formula of the name Shiva. In Sanskrit, Shiva means "that which is not". The meaning of this are the hidden realms of the astral - the realms of perception and knowledge which can only be accessed with the opened third eye. "That Which Is Not" is also the "Black Sun" that is hidden in the invisible realms of the astral. Shiva is likewise the ancient mantra used for opening the third eye and the crown chakra, the mantra that releases the Amrita nectar in a way that it connects with the solar chakra, thus transforming the soul.

In the East, it's believed that Shiva rules the cup of Amrita which, when drinking from it, makes one immortal. The Amrita nectar acts as a pure energy food as well.

The title of Melek Taus, whom the Yezidis also call Shaitan/Satan, is "Aivas" which means "The Cup Bearer". This cup is the "holy grail" we wrote about earlier - the collecting of the Amrita nectar into the solar chakra, which brings immortality to humans. Much of the grail legends come from the Persian gnostic traditions and spiritual allegories the Templars brought with them back to Europe. The Yezidis are Persians and still have these traditions at the core. Aivas is the hidden name of Melek Taus, it's like a code to the Yezidis. This name relates to Lucifer as well. The Light Bearer is the Cup Bearer which is the energy of Fer or Far(avahar) in Persian. This also relates to the Green Jewel in Lucifer's crown in the Gnostic tradition - the Mani Jewel, the symbol of the fully activated pineal gland and the third eye. Hence the fall of Lucifer is the fall of the human illuminated consciousness and the Light Body because the enemies attacked humanity. Note that Aivas is an alternate spelling of Eihwaz, the 13th rune. 13 is the number of Shiva/Satan/Lucifer. The Grail is the cup of Lucifer. Lucifer is the Grail bearer. The Green color is symbolic of Mercury which rules the higher octave of communication - the pineal gland.

This is the reason behind the "Azazel goat" the Jewish enemy puts their curses onto and sacrifices during Yom Kippur. The goat is a symbol of our crown chakra. Here Azazel is called Samazel and relates to Shaitan/Satan. Azazel is also another name of Melek Taus, it's another term used for Satan in this part of the world. The Jews state that this binding energy is placed onto all Gentiles and that it's binding the crown chakras and the third eyes of the Gentiles. "Peacock King" is the meaning of Melek Taus. The Peacock is a symbol of the fully opened third eye and the crown chakra. Azazel here is a concept, a concept of meditation and gentile spiritual freedom and power. The Yezidis worship the one who we call Azazel as Shamash - the Sumerian Sun God, which is also an ancient title of Azazel. The peacock spreading its beautiful tail feathers is the symbol of the halo - the fully awakened mind and fully awakened chakras.
