

Weather Control Weapons Behind California Disasters

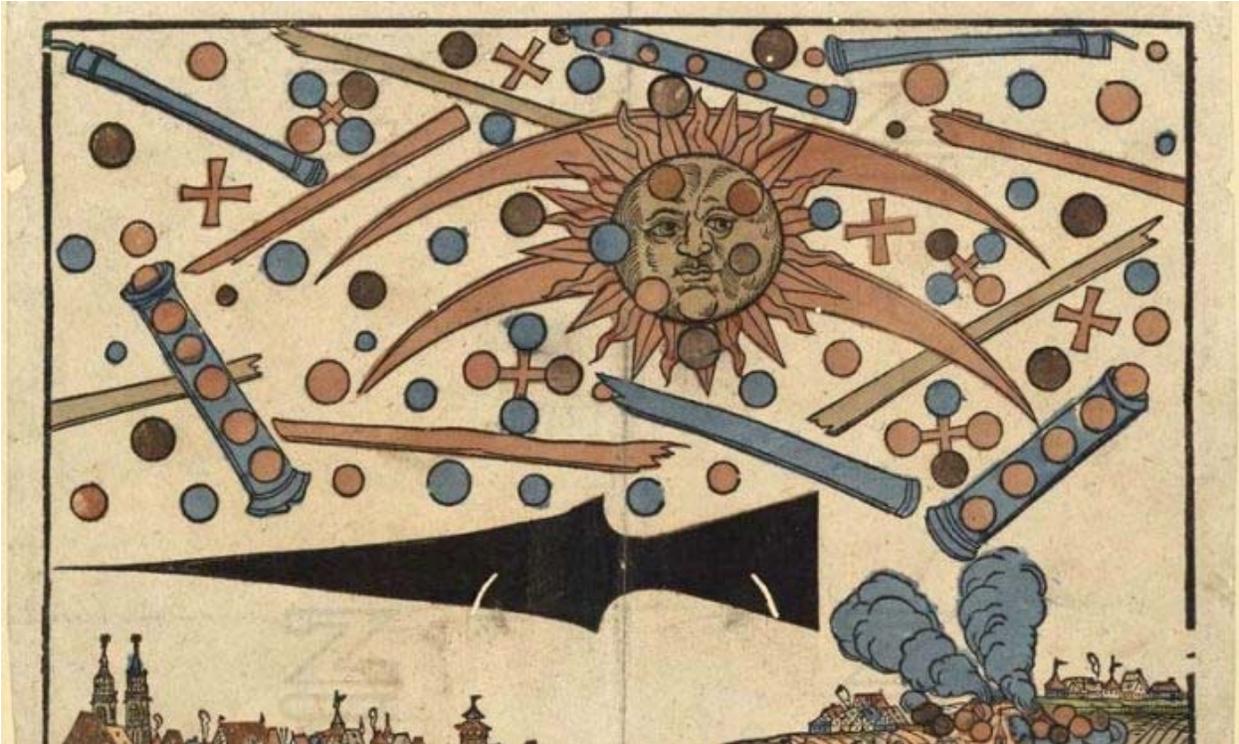

The situation is, from all reports, that the wildfires that hit California were caused by direct energy weapons that are used with weather control technology. The information below will show the reality of this technology does exist and the weather situation in California is artificially created and does not conform to natural laws of weather science that would normally bring about such weather situations. Many witnesses in California report seeing phenomena in the sky that are documented to be associated with weather control technology. This is also happening not only in California, but elsewhere around the world such as Greece and Sweden which were also attacked with Direct Energy Weapons in the same way. The American government used weather control during the Vietnam war to cause monsoons in order to flood regions populated by the Viet Cong forces. The global heat waves are also being caused by this along with the floods and strange weather in general. Even hail storms in summer.

Note there is a direct attempt to censor any and all information about this by the media corporations.

The enemy is causing these disasters and insane weather to attempt to bring about their Biblical prophecies in the mass mind of the end times. They are doing this while pushing for a greater world war. This is being done as a mass ritual to generate energy in the mass mind which they can then program and direct for their world government program. The "Black Death" in Medieval Europe, which wiped out a large part of the population, was brought about by artificial means as well. Many reports that survive from the time record seeing hovering lights in the sky followed by a fog rolling in, and everyone would get sick after this. One city survived because they saw the lights in the sky and the mist rolled in, and they started large bonfires in the city to burn out the mist because they knew what this meant. It always happened when the plague showed up. Others obviously started to do this too, and it reduced the effects. Others stated that they saw strangely dressed beings spraying something on the crops and in the air, and then everyone got sick afterwards. Some reported these beings coming in flying craft. Keep in mind that reports have stated they found the remains of an enemy Grey in the Vatican buried under the floor of an ancient chapel in Vatican City. Other reports from inside the Vatican mention there is a cabal of these Greys there all the time directing things.

The Black Death happened right as the enemy program of Christianity was starting to lose control in the population. The mass hysteria and fear that this caused in the public created a fundamentalist movement that considered this the end times, and this allowed the enemy to keep control of the population.

In Nuremberg in 1561, an aerial dogfight between UFO ships was recorded by the members of the city. They even created images of it:

There are also many paintings and even some historical records documenting UFO sightings during the Black Death as well. What else are the same hovering lights? The enemy has been at this for a while.

Back to the current events.

Many people have also reported that laser weapons are being used from the air. Numerous videos have documented this happening.

The situation is that this technology does exist.

"Solaren Corp. is based in Manhattan Beach, CA. They hold two patents for transmitting microwave directed energy from space to pinpoint locations on earth.

1 – Under patent US7612284B2 , a solar-powered satellite will generate a powerful microwave radio frequency beam focused on an array of collector antennas where it will be transformed to electrical power supplied to PG&E (Pacific Gas and Electric)

2- Under patent US20110204159A1, a solar-powered satellite will generate a powerful microwave radio frequency beam to control the weather by heating deployments of aluminum oxide or other conductive particulates, sprayed from aircraft. The patent describes methods of steering and changing the intensity of a hurricane.

The Guardian: It was reported on April 16, 2009 that a California solar energy firm – Solaren – plans to construct “orbiting solar farms” that will harvest electricity in space. Each “farm” would be a set of solar panels in outer space that would beam enough clean energy back to Earth to power half a million homes. Solaren’s specific plans (Patent US7612284B2) are to put an array of solar panels around 22,000 miles above the earth’s equator using existing rocket technology and then convert the power generated into microwave radio-frequency transmissions. The microwaves would be beamed back down to antennae in Fresno, California and then converted into electricity and fed into the PG&E power grid. Mirrors would focus sunlight on solar cells, generating electrical power. The electricity would be converted into microwaves suitable for transmitting through Earth’s atmosphere at frequencies of 2.45 or 5.8 GHz. For comparison, 2.45 GHz is the same frequency as your kitchen microwave, Wi-Fi, Bluetooth etc.

An interesting coincidence involves what could be called ‘Russian collusion’. On August 12, 2016 the Russian Federation’s Federal Service for Intellectual Property announced the issuance of a key Space Solar Power (SSP) system patent to Solaren Corporation. This suggests that Russia is developing – or has already deployed an SSP and that Solaren required technical help from Russia in order to contract service to PG&E.

The coincidence continues when a 2011 email from a PG&E official, Brian K Cherry, announced the antenna receptor site would be moved from the Mojave desert to Sebastopol."

The Jewish elites know they are losing their control on the world. They want to bring about their self created prophecy of the end times which ends with a global nuclear war that destroys the Gentile nations, and out of the ashes they want to create their Messiah Kingdom of a one world government. If they don't get this sooner than later they know they are fooked.

I suspect the same was done to Japan years ago

It's well known and documented in history that the Jews got caught red handed throwing plague bodies into the Gentile water supplies. This is one reason why so many pogroms against Jews happened around this time. The Jews mention that a Jew got the plague and purposely went to as many cities and towns that it could to spread it to as many of the Gentiles as possible. There the Jews are helping their alien masters.

I did an article on Japan and the information showed HAARP activity was in use at the time in the region of the tidal wave that hit Japan. Also it seems the reactors were sabotaged within the systems that caused the meltdown, and some traced this back to an Israeli company. After the disaster, the international Jewish banking stepped in and tried to establish debt lending control over Japan. The Japanese are not stupid People, and they have been one of the biggest opponents that the Jews have had.
